India Inc braces for China impact

Key sectors are watching the Covid situation, stocking up raw materials to avoid a crisis

MONIKA YADAV & ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

THE surge in Covid-19 cases in China has Indian manufacturers and traders worrying about another disruption in the supply chain like the one witnessed during the earlier Covid waves in 2020 and 2021.

Indian trade bodies are monitoring the Covid situation in China as there has been a massive surge in Covid cases there. China is the biggest trading partner of India and the latter imports important items such as mobile phones, electronic items, automotive parts, semiconductors, chemicals, pharmaceutical products, among others.

"So far, whatever we had ordered, we got it on time. However, we are monitoring the situation closely. We will have to wait for a few more days to know the exact impact," said A Sakthivel, president, Federation of Indian Export Organisations.

Sudarshan Jain, secretary-general, Indian Pharmaceutical Association, said the Covid outbreak in China is a matter of concern and pharma firms are watching the supply chain and inventories of medicines.

"Learning from the lockdowns in three years has been immense and companies have been keeping adequate stock of active pharmaceutical ingredients, finished product formulations and channel availability... The API prices have increased significantly ever since Covid hit us. We are anticipating fluctuations in API pricing," Jain added.

India imported $60 bn worth of goods from China in the first seven months of the current financial year, compared with $8.8 bn it exported to China.

The operations of automobile manufacturers, especially of electric vehicle makers, may get impacted if the situation in China deteriorates, but industry insiders say that as of now, the impact is not prominent.

Some firms have diversified their supply chain to minimise impact but most of the sector is still dependent on China for crucial parts, said a senior executive of an auto component company, who did not wish to be named.

The state government is taking all possible measures to ensure that the situation is contained before it worsens. However, they are still suggesting restrictions on international travel from high-risk countries. P3

Maha eyes 865 villages, Bommai says not an inch

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @Belagavi

CUTTING across party lines, Karnataka government and opposition leaders unanimously slammed a controversial resolution passed by the Maharashtra Legislative Council on Tuesday demanding the inclusion of 865 Karnataka villages into Maharashtra.

Hitting out at the Maharashtra government, Chief Minister Basvaraj Bommai said, "We strongly condemn the resolution. We are bound by the decision taken under the State Reorganisation Act, 1956. People on both sides are living happily, but the boundary issue is being raked up by Maharashtra for political reasons time and again. It is a habit of Maharashtra to pass such resolutions."

The CM made it clear that there is no question of Karnataka parting with even an inch of its land and said that his government is committed to protecting the interests of Kannadigas. He said that a case on the border dispute is in the Supreme Court and his government has complete faith in the court.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in Suvarna Vidhana Soudha on Tuesday

"The Karnataka Assembly passed a resolution of not giving its land to other states, but at the same time, Maharashtra announces in its Council that it will take away our land. The controversial resolution passed by Maharashtra is against the spirit of federal structure," he said.

Condemning Maharashtra's move, Leader of Opposition in Karnataka Assembly Siddaramaiah said the resolution does not have any legal sanctity.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar termed Maharashtra government's move "politically motivated" and said even a single village from Karnataka will not go to Maharashtra. "We (Congress party) are with the state government in all measures being taken with regard to the boundary dispute," he said. P4

The Bill will come into effect immediately with the CM being its ex-officio chairperson, Bengaluru development and transport ministers being vice-chairmen and the chief secretary and other officials concerned with the transport department being ex-officio members. P4

Putin critic's death accidental: Autopsy

SIBA MOHANTY @Bhubaneswar

WHAT was thought of as the unfortunate deaths of two Russian tourists at a hotel in the non-descript Rayagada district of Odisha till Monday, assumed international spotlight after one of them turned out to be a billionaire and powerful lawmaker from that country.

Pavel Antov (65), who allegedly fell from his hotel terrace on December 24, was a business tycoon and member of the Vladimir legislative assembly. With his being a Putin critic over the Ukraine invasion, the international glare was immediate. It prompted the Odisha government to order a Crime Branch investigation.

Pavel Antov

Two days before Antov's death, his friend Vladimir Bydanov died of cardiac arrest in the same hotel. Police sources told this newspaper that the post mortem report of Antov indicated 'accidental' death.

Bydanov had succumbed to cardiac arrest due to excessive consumption of intoxicants on December 22, they said.

Antov, whose company Vladimir Standart group's estimated earning stood at 9.97 billion rubles — translating to about $157 million — was travelling in Odisha with Bydanov and another Russian couple Mikhail Turov and Natalia Panasenko to usher in his 66th birthday. P10

Kannada flag maker's wife denied pension

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

KAMALAMMA Ramamurthy (95), wife of Ma Ramamurthy who designed the red-and-yellow Kannada flag and unfurled it for the first time in Bengaluru in the early 60s, has been denied old-age pension by the Kannada and Culture Department. The nonagenarian had approached the department seeking pension on health grounds.

Hailing from Nanjangud, Kamalamma had moved to Bengaluru after her marriage. Her husband Ramamurthy played an important role in Kannada movement in the 60s.

In the flag which he designed exclusively for Karnataka, yellow symbolises Arishina (turmeric) and red represents Kumkuma (vermilion), both considered sacred.

Ramamurthy used to walk across the city, almost everyday, carrying the flag to popularise it. However, in a tragic incident, he and his sons died while digging a well in the early 60s. Since then, Sharadamma has been living in an ashram in Bengaluru. As a tribute to the great man, a locality in East Bengaluru, Ramamurthynagar, was named after him.

Former CM SM Krishna on Monday wrote a letter to CM Basavaraj Bommai urging him to provide financial aid for Kamalamma's medical expenses.

When contacted, Kannada and Culture Minister Sunil Kumar said he is not aware of the matter and would look into it.

As Kamalamma has no children, neither any relatives, she is staying in an old age home. She is suffering from age-related ailments, which need treatment.

Two HC orders later, RGUHS students await revised results

Next exams on Jan 23, students feel heat

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE students of Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences (RGUHS), Karnataka, are still awaiting the results of their previous exams with the upcoming exams less than a month away. The university has not released the results even though the students have two Karnataka High Court orders in their favour.

The students had filed a petition in the HC, and on November 9, the court ordered that the results be revaluated and announced.

A case was filed by the students regarding the revaluation methods in exams. The previous evaluation methods would have four evaluators for grading. Their average score was the final grade. Under the new revaluation, the grades of only two evaluators were to be considered.

The university filed a review plea in court, challenging the revaluation method. The petition was rejected on December 14, but the results have not been announced.

A third-year MBBS student said he and many others have been waiting for long for the results. The students are confused since they are unaware about what subjects should they prepare for, in case they have failed.

With the next exams starting on January 23, students have only 27 days to prepare. Students are worried regarding the deadlines for examination fee and repeaters' fee.

Dr Ramakrishna Reddy, registrar, RGUHS, denied that he has not received any orders from the HC against the review petition filed by them. Hence, he said that the results have not been announced.

The revaluation method approved by the court was not ideal, he said, adding that initially, four evaluations were asked to be done, and a week later, two.

However, the students claimed the department has received a copy of the order. They have requested that the result be released as the matter has been stretched over two months, and has resulted in problems for the students.

Heavy vehicles for Metro work can ply in peak hrs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SPECIAL permission was taken for heavy vehicles carrying construction materials for Bengaluru Metro work as the traffic police had clamped down on the movement of such vehicles during peak hours over the last one month.

A top Metro official said, "BMRCL makes use of transit mixers to carry concrete from the batching plant to the work site, which fall under the heavy vehicle category. A rule was imposed on all such vehicles during morning and evening which created some issues initially."

For elevated Metro work, the concrete can be shifted during nights, but pouring of concrete needs to be done continuously for work on the underground section, explained another official. "We have written to the top traffic officer seeking permission. We were asked to send a list of the vehicle numbers which would be operating. We have done that too."

MA Saleem, special commissioner, traffic, told TNIE, "We do not permit heavy vehicles for six hours a day split between the morning and evening peak hours. BMRCL still has 18 hours to ply their vehicles. However, we have always obliged whenever they sought permission to operate their vehicles for construction-related activities."

TBM RUDRA RESUMES WORK AFTER 5 MONTHS

BMRCL's tunnel boring machine Rudra finally resumed its operations after five months on Monday towards Lakkasandra. In an unprecedented exercise, BMRCL had to send a special steel drum like structure (Pile Liner) underground to clear the garbage which halted the work at Dairy Circle. In mid-July, Rudra stopped work near the Bosch Factory after sink holes developed while boring through garbage. "The ground was shaking when we started the work to clear the garbage. For precaution, eight sheds of a granite factory above were vacated before the work began. Over a month was spent brainstorming on the best and safest method," a top official told TNIE. Contractor AFCONS Infrastructure created a mammoth drum measuring 13m in length and 1.2m in diameter, he said. "When the garbage was removed using the drum, the empty space was filled with concrete. The process was done 260 times over 2.5 months," he explained. Rudra is expected to complete the 400-m stretch in three months. – S LALITHA

COPS TRACK DOWN KILLERS FROM LETTER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Cubbon Park police cracked a nine-month-old murder case, and arrested five persons. An anonymous letter helped solve the mystery.

The accused are Chalapathy Agalagurki alias Venkata Chalapathy, an office-bearer of a Kannada organisation, his son AV Sharath Kumar, Dhanush K, Shridhar R, all residents of Chikkaballapura, and MP Manjunath of Yelahanka. They are accused of murdering H Sharath Kumar, a resident of Konanakunte. ACP of Cubbon Park sub-division DS Rajendra had received an anonymous letter about a week ago, stating the accused persons had murdered Kumar. The police picked up AV Sharath Kumar for questioning, and he reportedly admitted to the crime. Based on his information, four others were held, while three others involved in the case are absconding.

"The deceased had borrowed money from many residents in Chikkaballapura and Yelahanka, claiming he will get them a car under a government scheme. No one ever got a car, and the money not returned. The cheated persons approached Chalapathy, requesting him to help them recover the money. He entrusted the job to his son, who along with his associates, kidnapped the victim from Banashankari in March," the police said.

"The accused took him to their farmhouses in Chikkaballapura, where he was tortured for almost a week, which led to his death. The accused disposed of his body at Charmadi Ghat in Chikkamagaluru the same month. They had sent a message from the victim's phone to his father, stating he will be out of the state for money and not to search for him. The victim had some cheating cases against him in Bengaluru, and so, his family members did not check on his whereabouts or file a missing person's report," the police added.

KIA records 28.32 lakh fliers this Nov, jump by 41% compared to last year

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

CLOCKING 28.32 lakh passengers in November, KIA has recorded its best flyer figures this year, reveals the national Air Traffic Report of the Airports Authority of India. The airport has bested passenger figures recorded during the same period the previous year by 41.4%.

December figures are set to be even better going by the unprecedented crowds at KIA this festive season, prompting the Civil Aviation Ministry to ask the airport operator to take steps to mitigate the chaos.

The report said a total of 28.28 million passengers took to the skies across the country last month. Of that, KIA recorded 28,32,655 flyers in November 2022 as compared to 20,17,190 in November 2021. Last month's figure has 24,83,329 domestic passengers and the rest international. In all, 3,48,326 passengers flew overseas as compared to 1,22,331 during November 2021.

Freight traffic has shown a slight dip of over 1,000 MT in November 2022. It shipped 33,291 MT last month, while it was 34,253 in November 2021.

Air Traffic Movements (arrival and departure flights) have gone up by 11% last month, clocking 16,539 ATMs as against 14,819 in the corresponding period last year. Financial year figures show a massive 53.4% increase with 1,24,405 ATMs in the ongoing FY as against 81,115 till November in the previous FY.

Most airports in the state have reflected a similar trend in November 2022 with November 2021 figures given in brackets: Mangaluru had 1,44,214 flyers (1,16,100); Hubballi 30,642 (21,020); Mysuru 12,716 (10,873); HAL 1,917 (549) and Bidar 889 (Nil). Only Belagavi 22,149 (29,008) and Kalaburagi 7,015 (8,115) recorded a dip in flyers relative to previous year. Belagavi's dip is attributed to Spicejet stopping operations to Hyderabad and Mumbai since October, Alliance Air shifting its operations and Trujet ending its operations.

It was a year of controversies, big changes for education sector

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

THE education sector in the state has been on a roller-coaster ride for the entire 2022. While the last two years have been in preparation of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, this year has seen a flurry of activity across schools, colleges and universities.

2022 saw several major changes in the sector, including increased efforts to digitise administrative processes, particularly in higher education. Several initiatives launched have promised to ease access to information to students and other stakeholders, and to allow for complete transparency. However, that is not to say that the sector hasn't seen its own share of controversies. Controversies surrounding uniforms at schools, what to provide to children during midday meals, sudden syllabus changes, the fallout of digitising the sector and basic infrastructure struggles, among others, plagued the sector throughout the year, posing problems at every turn.

While changes were overarching, they also extended to the purely cosmetic. What was previously known as the Department of Primary and Secondary Education was changed earlier this year to the Department of School Education and Literacy, with Education Minister BC Nagesh undergoing the same change to his title. Similarly, the 56-year-old Karnataka State Education Examination Board (KSEEB) was renamed the Karnataka School Examination and Assessment Board (KSEAB), which proved to be a much bigger change. Under KSEAB, the department proposed to combine both the Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) board examinations and the Pre-University board examinations under one authority.

Headed by Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan, the state of higher education has shifted gradually towards modernisation. One of the major changes implemented is the switch to the Unified University College Management System (UUCMS), which promises to ease processes at higher education institutions. Following its implementation, strict orders were also given to the heads of institutions to register and use the system in an effort to digitise the sector.

In terms of controversies, 2022 was kicked off by the hijab row, which even gained international attention. With 2022 being the first complete year that Nagesh has headed the sector, he has also been accused of trying to saffronise it several times. This includes controversies related to adding or omitting chapters in textbooks, several syllabus changes, changes in what to feed children at midday meals and claims that government classrooms would literally be painted saffron.

In addition, the year has also seen its fair share of protests from students on several issues in the functioning of the two departments, something that continues regardless of leadership. Contrary to what the NEP 2020 stipulates, students allege that several of the changes implemented at all levels of the education sector are done poorly and pose more problems than they claim to solve.

However, the state education sector has been lauded for its attempts at modernisation as well as building contacts with foreign universities. The state has tried to give importance to teaching and research, as well as making education more accessible for students in rural areas, both through initiatives like allowing them to write in both Kannada and English during exams, as well as establishing smart classrooms.

All in all, 2022 has been a big year of changes for the education sector. While organisations and students claim that these changes have been poorly implemented, officials and ministers maintain that initial teething problems are unavoidable for any new changes.

PETER VIDAL

28TH December: In the ancient world, today was known as a day of the Mania. The general idea was that the Mundus, the passage to the underworld, was believed to open, allowing dead spirits to travel to the overworld and shamans and magicians to the underworld. That all sounds very risky to me!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Not for the first time it looks as if your concentration will wander. I must stress that this is really rather a good thing, for if you follow dreams and hunches you will come up with some rather unusual and inspired ideas. It's an emotional moment for many of you, so there may be the odd tear or two.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Approaching stunning planetary movements are casting a shadow backwards in time, one which may get you moving with surprising speed. If you're travelling, don't be surprised if you encounter a spot of chaos over the next three days, but try to make the best of it when you do!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You must take great care of all joint financial arrangements, and don't let anyone put you off your stroke. The best purchases and investments, at the moment, are either radical or high-tech, which gives you quite a choice. But your guiding principle should be whether your actions benefit everyone - or just you.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There's a sense in which your current stars are electrifying. This means of course, that you may receive a shock any time over the next three days. But, rather than dwell on any unexpected events, why don't you take control and spring into action?

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is one final word to be spoken, one last thought to be had, before you come out into the open. You have been very adept at revealing your feelings while concealing your thoughts, a display which has left others feeling a mite confused.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Children and younger people may need careful handling over the next few days, yet don't criticise anyone for being difficult. Instead, help them express their feelings and give direction to some very unusual and original aspirations. The differences between you can be the very qualities which make for a dynamic relationship.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The domestic situation is looking uncertain and unstable, but you may have no warning of someone's intention to up sticks and move on. The best thing you can do is encourage others in their adventurous desires. You might even be able to enjoy their success at second-hand.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
To start with, you need to look at what is right and what is wrong. Having checked out the ethical questions, you may now throw yourself wholeheartedly into professional achievement. There is everything to be gained from letting rip and working twenty-five, or even twenty-six hours a day!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Hopefully you have thought in great detail about your financial commitments and checked out the most tiny minutiae. Only if you are word-perfect will you transform a current opportunity into a massive profit. You may also have to convince a family member that your plans are right for them as well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It is unclear whether it is you or a close partner who is pulling back from a number of ties. If it is them, then they are probably unconsciously doing your unspoken bidding in some strange sort of way, as if it's you who is secretly reluctant to make a commitment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You might disregard all rumours and suspicions as time-wasting cul-de-sacs. But do, however, devote as much time as is necessary to investigating strange mysteries and figuring out just what makes someone tick. If a partner seems confused, it's because they are!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Social and romantic commitments certainly seem to be of growing importance. However, as I've hinted in the past you must now define your position, coming off the fence and making a firm decision one way or the other. You may have kept partners waiting for long enough.

HEALTH DEPT SUGGESTS CURBS ON AIR TRAVEL FROM HIGH-RISK COUNTRIES

Inter-state restrictions, however, not expected yet, as no states have shown a major rise in Covid cases

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

WITH the ongoing surge of Covid-19 cases in several parts of the world, the Karnataka Health Department has sought the imposition of restrictions on air travel from high-risk countries like China, the US, Japan, and the Republic of Korea.

The Karnataka Government is taking all possible precautionary measures to ensure that the Covid situation is well-tackled in case the situation worsens. However, they are still suggesting the Union Government to introduce international travel restrictions from the countries with a high count of Covid cases. Health Commissioner D Randeep said the same was also highlighted by Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar in the video conference with Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya.

The state government even initiated random screening of international passengers at the airport on December 24. On December 26, 13 international passengers tested positive for Covid.

Randeep said all the passengers had very mild symptoms and are under home isolation. Their test samples have been sent for genome sequencing and their reports are expected on Saturday. The passengers are to remain isolated until then. Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) Chairman Dr MK Sudarshan had said that they can only determine if the passengers are infected with the highly-transmissible BF.7 variant, once the genomic sequencing reports come.

With the mock drills in government hospitals initiated on Tuesday and the ongoing symptomatic screening of international passengers at the airport, the health commissioner highlighted that all possible measures are being taken. Even the number of active positive cases in the state and those witnessed in the screening at airports are not high.

Though the health department has requested air travel restrictions, as of now, inter-state restrictions are not expected to be imposed, as no states in India have shown a significant rise in cases.

AMID a surge of Covid cases in China and other countries, Covid response mock drills were held at government-run Victoria Hospital, Jayanagar General Hospital and KC General Hospital on Tuesday, to check the preparedness to tackle any spike in Covid cases. The mock drill majorly focused on bed capacities, which include oxygen and ventilator-supported beds and ICU beds, availability of doctors and oxygen supply.

Medical Superintendent of Victoria Hospital Dr Ramesh Krishna, who led the mock drill, said, "We have dedicated a complete block at Victoria Hospital with 50 beds; eight of them being high dependency units (HDU) and four ICU beds. To the existing 10 kl and 6 kl oxygen tanks, we have added another tank of 13 kl. We have handled more than 15,000 positive cases till date. We have enough staff to handle the surge and they all have undergone critical care training."

Dr Sudha B M, Covid Nodal Officer at Jayanagar General Hospital, said after the mock drill that there was no reason to panic and right from oxygen supply to reserving beds, everything is in place to tackle any sudden surge in Covid cases.

Dr Sujatha Rathod, Medical Superintendent at Minto Hospital, said that during the last Covid wave, they assigned 100 beds for Covid, however, many of them remained unused, since admissions were less. Hence, this time they plan to assign only a small percentage of beds for now.

An administrative official from KC General Hospital said they had not assigned specific beds for Covid, as there were no hospital admissions currently. In case a patient would come to the hospital, they plan to refer them to Bowring Hospital. He said if the number of cases increase, they would assign beds accordingly.

WITH the state government asking people to mask up in public transport, Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC), Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) and BMRCL officials were seen asking people to wear masks before boarding.

BMRCL has deployed security at various stations especially Majestic. The personnel are insisting that passengers enter the premises wearing masks.

BMTC MD Surya Sen told TNIE that all stations have been instructed to make announcements about the mask rule. However, the passengers are not being forced to wear masks. Following instructions from the state health department, stalls at BMTC stations have been asked to stock up on masks for passengers, said a senior official.

KSRTC senior officials have also appealed on their website that passengers should wear masks before boarding.

Like the previous waves, BMRCL has again started denying entry to unmasked passengers in its stations.

"Children, eldery and pregnant women, and also those with comorbidities take the metro. We cannot compromise their safety, and won't allow anyone without masks," said a senior official.

Assembly okays Spl Investment Region Bill

Mega clusters to come up on lands of over 1,250 acres across Karnataka; Electronics City to be model

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

THE Karnataka Special Investment Region Bill-2022 to establish, operate, regulate and manage mega-investment clusters in Karnataka was passed in the Assembly on Tuesday.

Large and Medium-Scale Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani, who tabled the Bill, said mega clusters will be developed in land measuring more than 1,250 acres and they will be out of the jurisdiction of local authorities. The regional development authority will take into account the development plan prepared by respective gram panchayats or municipalities before developing the clusters. The Karnataka Industrial Areas Development Board will be the apex authority of the special investment region. Of the taxes generated from these industrial clusters, 30% will go to local authorities, while 70% will be reserved with the apex authority to provide necessary infrastructure and amenities to the area.

Congress MLA RV Deshpande said there coudld be legal hurdles if consent is not taken from local authorities for the Bill. JDS MLA Shivalingegowda said, "It is nothing but another land acquisition scheme from the government. Many industrial areas are developed by acquiring farmers' land and now townships are being created there. The government should first conduct an audit of those lands that have remained unused and take them back."

BJP MLA CT Ravi said, "A demand survey in every district should be conducted with a widespread plan for the next 25 years. Problems will increase with mega clusters... The government should look for better utilisation of resources in small clusters."

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said he is aware of misuse of lands granted for industrial areas in the past. "The implementation of the Bill will start with an audit of unused lands. Various associations and forums have sought dedicated industrial areas with all basic amenities that will help them set up and run business easily. We want to make industrial areas on the lines of Electronics City which is self-sufficient. These clusters will be beyond Bengaluru. The consent for the Bill has been taken from local authorities. The unused land will be recovered," he said.

Members of the Karnataka Pradesh Kurubara Sangha protest outside the Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi on Tuesday | EXPRESS

2 ministers gheraoed by Kuruba protesters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

TWO ministers were gheraoed by members of the Karnataka Pradesh Kurubara Sangha (KPKS) who were staging a dharna in front of Suvarna Vidhan Soudha demanding the inclusion of Kurubara community in the Scheduled Tribe (ST) category, in Belagavi on Tuesday.

Minister for Small Scale Industries MTB Nagaraj and Minister for Social Welfare and Backward Classes Kota Srinivas Poojary had reached the venue to pacify the protesters that their demands would be looked into. However, police had to be called in to escort the ministers out of the tense situation.

After addressing the protesters, Nagaraj climbed down the stage and was about to leave, when few KPKS leaders objected to him leaving. They said that until Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah visited the protesters, they would not let him go.

By that time, Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary reached the spot and he too assured the agitators that he will take up their demands with the chief minister and reply to them by evening. But the agitators were not convinced and instead threatened to lay siege over the Suvarna Vidhana Soudha. Police had to step in to free Poojary from the protesters. The protesters complained that the Kurubara community is economically and educationally backward.

Meanwhile, cutting across party lines, MLAs demanded that the Kadu Golla community be accorded Scheduled Tribe tag. During Zero Hour, BJP MLA Goolihatti Shekar raised the matter stating that the community deserves to be recognised as a tribe.

Oppn protests govt funds to defeated candidates

ENS @ Belagavi

THE Assembly witnessed an intense drama over allocation of funds as the opposition Congress tried to pin down the BJP government for trying to help the party's defeated candidates.

Sringeri MLA Raje Gowda from Congress tried to move a privilege motion, saying he has been sidelined in his own constituency by the government while allocating funds for development works. "Crores of rupees which should have been allocated to my constituency has either been diverted to some other constituency or allocated through the defeated candidate. Nearly Rs 15 crore meant for my constituency has gone to Shikaripura," he said.

Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah said, "The allocation of funds to a defeated candidate sets a bad precedent. It is against democracy. Do not make it a prestigious issue. A defeat is a defeat."

When Law Minister JC Madhuswamy tried to explain that this cannot be a breach of privilege, Rajegowda and Kunigal MLA DR Ranganath entered the well of the House and threatened to stage a dharna. Speaker Vishweshwara Hegde Kageri said Rajegowda has not furnished any proof of protocol violation and asked him to go back to his seat. He assured the opposition that the issue will be discussed in the business advisory. But Rajegowda continued to sit in the well of the House. CM Bommai gave him two options: Either withdrawal of allocation or reissuing it in the name of the government. Gowda accepted the latter and ended the dharna.

Protest by advocates hits traffic on highway

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

DEMANDING that the Legislature pass the Advocates Protection Bill, a large number of advocates staged a protest in front of Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi on Tuesday.

The advocates blocked the busy Pune-Bengaluru National Highway for several hours and also attempted to picket the soudha when the police tried to stop them from blocking the highway. The traffic on the busy national highway came to a grinding halt and vehicles were stranded on both sides of the road for several km after 2.30 pm. Several groups of agitating advocates removed the barricades placed near the soudha and tried to gherao it.

Several of them indulged in a verbal duel with the Belagavi Police Commissioner when he tried to pacify them.

Tension prevailed near the entrance of the soudha when some advocates climbed the gates and raised slogans against Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhuswamy.

The minister met the advocates later and asked them to withdraw their agitation, assuring them of taking measures to fulfil their demands. However, the advocates were unrelenting and intensified their protest. Later, Revenue Minister R Ashoka met the protesters and was able to take them into confidence. Ashoka said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has agreed to pass the Advocates Protection Bill in the larger interest of advocates and urged the advocates to withdraw their agitation.

After several hours, the advocates finally decided to call off the protest.

Council passes resolution

The border row rocked the Karnataka Legislative Council too on Tuesday which passed a resolution against giving up any land to other states and to protect the interests of Kannadigas. Law Minister Madhuswamy, "Karnataka has developed areas on its border in a big way. We have improved the Belagavi region and made it better than Bengaluru," he added. Slamming Maharashtra leaders for demanding the Centre to declare Belagavi a UT, MLC Nagaraj Yadav said that the Centre should declare Mumbai a UT as a majority of people living there are outsiders.

MAHARASHTRA CM SHINDE OFFERS SOPS

During a debate in the Maharashtra Council in Nagpur on Tuesday, Maharashtra CM Eknath Shinde said his government would extend all facilities for the education of Marathi-speaking people living in all 865 villages of Karnataka on the border, at par with facilities given to the people of Maharashtra. He said all the registered organisations in these villages will be given financial support. "Maharashtra has named senior advocates to argue its case over the boundary dispute filed in the Supreme Court. We have approached senior counsel Harish Salve and he agreed to fight our case," Shinde said. Recalling the clashes that took place over the vexed dispute, the Maharashtra CM said, "MLA Chagan Bhujbal was lathicharged in the struggle over boundary areas in the past and I was jailed there (Belagavi). Shinde said his government has sanctioned Rs 2,000 crore to implement a water scheme for Jatt taluk (which should actually go to Karnataka as per the Mahajan Commission)

Chavan to head state leg of Cong's Haath Jodo Yatra

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE All-India Congress Committee (AICC) on Tuesday appointed 26 senior Congress leaders as observers to oversee the Haath se Haath Jodo Abhiyan across the country which will be led by AICC General Secretary Priyanka Gandhi. Prithviraj Chavan from Maharashtra has been given charge to oversee the planning and implementation of the yatra in Karnataka which is scheduled to begin in less than a week here.

The AICC said it is a follow-up to the Bharat Jodo Yatra. While Congress leaders from every other state figure in this list, the big surprise is that there is not a single leader from Karnataka who has made it to the list.

This non-inclusion could be deliberate as AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge is from Karnataka, sources said.

State Congress working president Eshwar Khandre said it is because the state is headed to the polls and every leader's presence is important, considering that the poll notifications are expected in just about three months.

While the border issue with Maharashtra is brewing, the appointment of a former Maharashtra chief minister as in-charge of Karnataka has raised eyebrows. Congress sources explained that Chavan had served as state in-charge of Karnataka and that AICC Maharashtra state-in charge HK Patil is from Karnataka.

Congress sources said Priyanka and team will arrive in Karnataka and go around the state, carrying the message of "inclusiveness and unity" and will hold padayatra and rallies to highlight issues specific to national unity. They will raise issues of unemployment and those related to women like inflation.

KPCC working president Saleem Ahmed explained that since the polls are so close, they will begin the yatra in January. The Bharat Jodo Yatra is scheduled to culminate in Srinagar on Republic Day in Srinagar.

'Multilevel structures on cards to address B'luru's parking woes'

THE authority aims to promote seamless mobility through sustainable urban transport and integration of land use and transport planning in the Urban Mobility Region (UMR) by preparing and updating the comprehensive mobility plan.

The authority puts in place frameworks and regulations to establish an effective coordination mechanism, covering all strategic and operational matters among agencies handling urban transport, infrastructure development and traffic management. The authority will prepare norms for implementation of transportation projects on a public-private partnership basis. It assists, aids and advises the state government on urban mobility matters in UMR by providing inputs for policy formulation for comprehensive, integrated and efficient urban mobility.

The authority will borrow, lend, fund or facilitate financing of all urban mobility projects. It will devise regulations, guidelines and provide guidance to all transport, infrastructure development and traffic management agencies on matters pertaining to data sharing, data access and intellectual property rights.

The Bill was well received by the members, except for a few doubts and suggestions. Bommanahalli MLA Aravind Limbavali wanted to know whether there was any proposal to end the parking menace, while Deputy Leader of Opposition UT Khader sought the inclusion of a local MLA or minister in the authority. "They will have local knowledge as the transport minister can be from outside Bengaluru," he said.

Chief Minister Basavraj Bommai, who returned from New Delhi by noon, said the Bill is crucial, considering that Bengaluru is the fastest-growing city in the country. Stating that over 5,000 new vehicles are added to city roads every day, he said, "The city has a massive population of 1.25 crore and more than 1 crore vehicles. Soon, the number of vehicles will overtake the human population. To decongest Bengaluru, we have taken various institutions together. Places like Gorguntepalya and Hebbal need to be decongested. The construction of multilevel parking lots to address parking woes is on cards. The traffic needs a scientific study, which will be done by IISc experts," he added.

The Bill was passed without any objection.

The misappropriation is to the tune of Rs 1,294 crore, the minister said citing the audit report, and around 24 people had taken Rs 819 crore loans. An FIR has been filed against 42 persons, and the properties of those involved have been attached, and their accounts frozen. All efforts are being made to recover the money, he said. THIS WAS THE YEAR WE BROKE FREE FROM COVID, BUT IT IS BACK...

AKNISREE KARTHIK
@ Bengaluru

AS we come to the close of 2022, the mandatory mask rule along with other Covid restrictions is back with China, Japan, the United States, Brazil and Korea witnessing a sudden surge of the virus and deaths.

After two years of the Covid pandemic, the state health department in 2022 gave a respite to the people and lifted all Covid-related restrictions. Life returned to normal and people started venturing out.

To keep the state better prepared for such emergencies, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai apportioned nearly 5 per cent of the total outlay of the 2022-23 budget for health. It went up from Rs 11,908 crore the previous year to Rs 13,982 crore this year, an increase of 17.41 per cent. The budget aimed to focus on primary care, preventive care, rural health, maternal well-being and improving children's nutrition.

To prevent youth from falling prey to tobacco, considered a gateway to drugs, the state government gave its nod to tobacco vendor licensing. If this becomes a reality, only those vendors who have the licence from the local municipal corporation can sell tobacco products. This will go a long way in keeping tobacco out of the reach of children who are below 18 years old and do away with the illegal practice of selling cigarettes 'loose', which is where children get a chance to experiment with tobacco and become lifetime addicts.

The Indian Institute of Science expanded its Viral Biosafety level three facility to include a viral genome sequencing lab. It will be working with the government in tackling the Covid threat and also in handling any future emergencies.

One in six women and one in seven men are at the risk of developing cancer in Karnataka, according to an Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) report. Breast cancer is the most common cancer among women and lung cancer among men. Doctors are urging the government to lay more stress on creating awareness on cancer prevention, early screening, detection and early treatment.

From 83 maternal deaths per one lakh live births in 2017-18 to 69 maternal deaths in 2018-2020, Karnataka's Maternal Mortality (MMR) declined by 14 points. With this, Karnataka also achieved the sustainable development goal of having less than 70 maternal deaths much ahead of the 2030 deadline. Health experts, however, pointed out that compared to other South Indian states, Karnataka has the highest MMR and has a long way to go in reducing it. Kerala has the lowest MMR at 19, followed by Telangana at 43, Andhra Pradesh 45 and Tamil Nadu 54.

A woman and her twin babies died in Tumakuru district after the government hospital staff refused to admit her when she did not produce a government mother card and Aadhaar card. Such dereliction of duty should be dealt with seriously and not just end with the suspension of a few staffers. The later circular by the health department not to ask for any ID cards in emergency cases was appreciated. Taking a cue from Delhi's 'Mohalla Clinics', the state cabinet in July approved Rs 103 crore to set up urban health and wellness centres called 'Namma Clinics'. Of the total 438 clinics (243 in Bengaluru), Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai simultaneously launched 114 of them in the state mid-December. Each such clinic aims to cater to a population of 10,000 to 20,000 and provide 12 services. While the clinics are yet to gain popularity, they are expected to witness more footfalls over the next few weeks to help the ruling BJP garner more votes.

K'taka Lokayukta police conduct searches in tobacco units in 9 dists

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Lokayukta police on Tuesday conducted searches at tobacco products manufacturing units and godowns in nine districts of Karnataka.

Lokayukta Justice B S Patil issued 35 search warrants, including nine in Bengaluru, four in Tumakuru, two in Dharwad, three in Belagavi, four in Bagalkot, six in Ballari, two in Chitradurga, three in Bidar and two in Mysuru, authorising police officers to search and seize documents and other materials.

The search warrants were issued based on suo motu proceedings initiated by the Lokayukta after receiving a preliminary inquiry report from the police wing of the anti-corruption watchdog in connection with certain manufacturers and transporters illegally transporting tobacco products like pan masala, gutka and other forms of chewable tobacco products into Karnataka in collusion with Commercial Tax Department officials. It was also brought to the notice of the Lokayukta that these products attract GST at the rate of 28 per cent and illegal transportation of such products without rising the tax bills and invoices causes huge loss to the state exchequer.

Search is in progress and further details will be released, Lokayukta sources said.

₹20 cr for event, but varsity wants hostels vacated

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

STUDENTS and faculty members at Karnatak University, Dharwad (KUD) are up in arms against the varsity who has told them to vacate hostels for nine days to accommodate guests who are arriving for the National Youth Festival scheduled to be held in January 2023.

The five-day festival will be inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on January 12 on the Karnatak College Grounds in Dharwad. Thousands of students from all over the country are expected to take part.

Those opposing the varsity's decision pointed out that school hostels could have been used for accommodation besides booking lodges and putting up tents for the participants.

"The government is planning to spend Rs 20 crore for the event and it's strange that they cannot make arrangements for the stay of the participants. It's not fair to ask us to vacate when completion of our syllabus is already running behind schedule," said a senior student from the university. The authorities at the university, however, maintain that the National Youth Festival is a mega event and everyone should cooperate for its success.

"There is no forceful evacuation of students from the hostels. We have made arrangements for them to keep their luggage till the event gets over. Holidays have been declared for the students," B Gudasi, Vice Chancellor of KUD told TNIE.

A faculty member from KUD said that the administration could have gone for Guest-at-Home initiative which is taken up during major events in the state. "Despite getting good funding from the government, the organisers are unable to plan accommodation," he said.

"The varsity has not appointed any guest lecturers though the course is behind schedule and vacating the hostels and declaring holidays will further delay the completion of syllabus. We too are excited about the youth festival and prefer to stay in our hostel rooms rather than going back to our homes and miss the event," he added.

TN MOSQUE KEY LINK IN ISIS CASES IN KERALA

AJAY KANTH @ Kochi

THE NIA probing the Islamic State (IS)-related cases in Kerala revealed that Mohammed Azharudeen, who has been accused of recruiting several persons for attacks in South India, allegedly radicalised several youths at a mosque in Coimbatore in Tamil Nadu.

The National Investigation Agency revealed the probe details in a report submitted at the Special Court for NIA Cases in Ernakulam opposing the petition filed by Azharudeen and Sheik Hidayathulla alias Firoz Khan, who were arrested on charges of recruiting persons from Kerala and TN.

The report said Azharudeen was a frequent visitor to Rayan Mosque in Coimbatore, where he also delivered 'bayans' from 2013.

According to the NIA, it was at this mosque that Azharudeen met the other accused and radicalised them. "Both Azharudeen and Sheik Hidayathulla were radicalised through the material accessed online on extreme Salafi ideology since 2016 and the accused used to hear speeches of radical speakers like Anwar Al Awlaqi, Abu Bara, Moosa Cerantonio, Zahran Hashim of Sri Lanka and others," the NIA report said. It added that Azharudeen was in touch with many Sri Lankan individuals and entities through Facebook and encrypted social media.

"The accused had visited many places in Kerala since 2017, met their associates at various places and conveyed their support to IS," the report said.

The NIA report said Azharudeen's Facebook account revealed that Zahran Hashim and Mohammed Noushan were on the friend list, and on March 3, 2019, he had chatted with Mohammed Noushan, who informed Azharudeen that "there is a big plan going on".

NIA said Mohammed Noushan and Zehran Hashim were leaders of IS in Sri Lanka and they had been the suicide bombers of 2019 Easter day blast at a church in Colombo. "The 'big plan' had been made soon before the Sri Lankan blast and this conversation is a strong circumstance pointing out the nexus between the accused Azharudeen and ISIS world wide," the NIA report said.

Hassan mixer blast: Parcel sender held

BR UDAYA KUMAR @ Hassan

THERE are more questions than answers even after 24 hours of the mixer grinder blast in Hassan city in which a DTDC courier centre owner Shashi Kumar sustained grievous injuries.

Police have arrested the person who sent the parcel to the woman, but they are yet to ascertain the cause of the explosion which took place after Kumar opened it on Monday evening. The parcel was returned by a woman as it did not have the sender's address.

Refusing to disclose the name and address of the sender, SP Hariram Shankar said he will share the details after getting the report from the Forensic Science Laboratory. Preliminary investigations reveal that there might be personal grudge behind the incident.

Sources said the woman, who is a widow, had received three small parcels from the same person, and discarded them without opening.

CHANDA KOCHHAR ARREST SPARKS MORE QUESTIONS, LESS ANSWERS

Economic offences may not be violent crimes, but in the long run, they have a more serious debilitating effect on the economy. In this context, bringing to book Chanda Kochhar, former MD & CEO of ICICI Bank, her husband Deepak Kochhar, and Venugopal Dhoot, chairman of the Videocon Group, for defrauding the bank must be supported. The Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) has arrested the trio for loan sanctions of ₹3,250 crore from the ICICI Bank to the Videocon Group in violation of the Banking Regulation Act and the credit policy of the bank. As quid pro quo, Venugopal Dhoot transferred ₹64 crore to Deepak Kochhar's startup, NuPower Renewables. What is intriguing, though, is the long time it took the CBI to get into the act. The agency had filed a chargesheet as far back as March 2018, and Kochhar was fired by the bank in January 2019. In the four years that have elapsed, the investigation, trial and sentencing should all have been over. We are, however, unfortunately still at the stage of preliminary investigation.

Moreover, what we have today is just the tip of the iceberg. For months after the scam blew, the ICICI Bank board continued to protect Chanda Kochhar and insisted there was no wrongdoing. Only after the internal investigation by Justice B N Srikrishna indicted Kochhar in January 2019 was the bank forced to acknowledge malfeasance, and she was formally terminated. Secondly, Kochhar was not the only person in the Credit Committee that sanctioned the suspect loans. Who else was responsible? The investigating agencies haven't even begun looking!

At a broader level, the tardy and casual way we handle economic crimes is a matter of serious concern. During the past five financial years, scheduled commercial banks have written off ₹10.09 lakh crore as bad debts. Writing off bad debts dresses up the non-performing assets (NPAs) portfolio, but it doesn't take away from the fact that thousands of crores lent mainly by the public sector banks (PSBs) have vanished into the blue. The banks have even identified who they call 'willful defaulters', but it hasn't made a recovery easier. Among those topping the list are Mehul Choksi (₹10,444 crore) and diamantaire Jatin Mehta's Winsome Diamonds (₹6,800 crore), who have disappeared overseas. The action against economic offenders must be quick and punishing. Currently, it is not a very strong message going out.

CONG DISSENT HAMPERS SURVIVAL IN TELANGANA

The Congress faces an existential crisis in Telangana when it should gear up for the assembly elections due in a year. As always with the grand old party, there is too much dissent. The present crisis, if unresolved, could well relegate it to the fringes of the state polity.

It had been brewing since A Revanth Reddy assumed the mantle of the state unit last year. Senior leaders vying for the job had to swallow the bitter pill as Reddy was picked at the behest of Rahul Gandhi. Seen as a go-getter and an eloquent speaker, the high command believed that he could be the right man to lead the party after its MLAs defected en masse to the pink party (BRS). Unfolding events since then have understandably upset the seniors, be it Revanth's style of functioning, the entry of his former colleagues from the TDP, or the perceived snubs to true blue Congressmen. The 'suffocated natives' raised a banner of revolt against the so-called 'migrants', leading to a stand-off that forced the party's high command to rush troubleshooter Digvijay Singh to Hyderabad. One cannot help but pity the Congress.

Whatever public sympathy it may have gained with Rahul's Bharat Jodo Yatra and how it fought the Munugode bypoll evaporated with the leaders washing dirty linen in public. Digvijay did what he does best—lend a patient ear to the disgruntled leaders whose main complaint was that Revanth had packed the various committees with his old pals from the TDP. While they were at it, they also vented their ire on the party's Telangana-incharge and MP Manickam Tagore, whom they accused of being Revanth's yes-man. Of course, the PCC chief's camp was furious, too, as it saw in the 'revolt' a deliberate design to derail Revanth's proposed padayatra.

The tragedy of the Congress is that it is better placed than the BJP in Telangana regarding its cadre and penetration. It has enough ammo to put up a spirited fight against the BRS. As Manickam Tagore himself is understood to have expressed the desire to stand down, the party should look for a leader acceptable to both the young brigade, represented by Revanth, and the old-timers to sort out their differences and infuse team spirit. If things continue as they are, we will likely be writing an obit for the State Congress just over a year from now.

QUICK TAKE

CASE FOR GENDER-NEUTRAL HOSTELS

A transgender student had to move courts for a hostel seat at Punjab University. Consequently, the Chandigarh administration told the court that it was planning a 'shelter' for transgender people. Such patronising attitudes cannot foster inclusion on campus or hasten their societal integration. A similar state of affairs prevails across India, except for small campuses like TISS and NALSAR, which have gender-neutral hostels. Renting flats is not easy for trans-persons, and they're unsafe off-campus. Lack of hostel facilities is the primary reason they drop out of academics. The universities must be held accountable for gender-based discrimination in allotting hostel seats.

To get a sense of where the Opposition stands vis-à-vis the BJP, it is necessary to assess the states heading to polls in 2023 and see if they show the way for macro unity

OPPOSITION STUCK IN A BLIND ALLEY SANS COHESION

RADHIKA RAMASESHAN

Columnist and political commentator

SOURAV ROY

Almost every winter session of Parliament sets off a firestorm of controversy, which inevitably delineates the contours of a campaign for the Opposition in the elections held in the following year. The last sitting of the year is also the most acrimonious, especially if it marks the end of a government's five-year tenure and throws the ruling party or coalition and the Opposition into the combat zone of Parliamentary elections. Parliament is also a forum to not only put to the test the Opposition's mettle in confronting the ruling party or coalition, but a reflection of its willingness to unite outside the House to fight the establishment, particularly one that is as powerful and apparently invincible as the BJP-led NDA.

After a tepid year in Parliament in which the BJP aced the Opposition on nearly every issue the latter raised and the Congress flunked in showing the way because it was trapped in its problems, the first signs of an accord of sorts were visible in December. It didn't begin that way.

The newly christened Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) was at loggerheads with the Congress over the Hyderabad police raids on the party's "war room".

The Samajwadi Party skipped one of the first meetings convened by Mallikarjun Kharge, Congress president and Rajya Sabha Opposition leader, ostensibly to maintain its official distance from the party. The Trinamool Congress Party did likewise, and in the process, three significant entities of an envisaged Opposition front seemed to withdraw.

However, China's incursion in Arunachal Pradesh's Tawang was not a matter that the Congress was willing to pass up, regardless of whether the Opposition was on board. After Sonia Gandhi denounced the government for refusing to allow a discussion over China and protested on Parliament's premises, her remarks were the ballast the non-BJP parties looked for. The TMC and the Janata Dal (United) were among those to join the demonstration. The BJP's shadow, which dogged the Opposition earlier because of the fear that questions raised over a China-India face off might "demoralise" the armed forces, disappeared, but the Centre refused to yield to the demand for a discussion. The question is, will the Opposition cohere outside Parliament and persistently seek answers on China or look inwards at regional concerns?

Parliament is not the lasting answer to bring together a disparate Opposition which looks askance at the Congress' ability to helm a coalition or is frankly disdainful of the Gandhis. Some regional chieftains harbour national ambitions, while others have scripted their rules of engagement with the BJP to keep the supply lines of central funding uninterrupted by political standoffs. Intra-Opposition partnerships are not necessarily dictated anymore by federal compulsions.

To get a sense of where the Opposition stands vis-à-vis the BJP, it is necessary to get granular, assess the states heading to polls in 2023 and see if they show the way for macro unity. Tripura, a dot on India's map that rarely figured on pollsters' radar until the BJP wrested it from the Left in 2018, is the first election-bound state. The BJP is prepping up in earnest. Last week PM Modi was in Tripura to announce projects worth ₹4,350 crore as if to emphasise the import of the BJP's "double-engine" slogan, which has had mixed results. Still, there's no reason to think that voters will not be swayed by such grandiose figures put out by the PM himself.

However, Tripura's Opposition is not sitting still. On December 21, leaders of the CPI(M), Congress and descendants of freedom fighters got together under the banner of the "75 Years of Independence Observance Committee" with an appeal to save democracy, freedom and the Constitution from a "fascist assault". Hyperbole apart, it is believed that the Left and Congress could have an "understanding" to combat the BJP despite a mutual history of conflicts and dissensions. Tripura is the first state where a notional Opposition unity will face its first test, although the Congress-Left Front battle lines remain sharply etched in Kerala.

In an election-crammed year, Telangana is bound to play a dampener because there is no way that the BRS, with its soaring national aspirations, and the Congress, will team up against a belligerent BJP. The push to make a common cause is not sufficiently robust. The Congress, depleted by defections, will not forfeit its Telangana space easily. The BRS fancies itself as a Congress competitor.

Unlike the BRS chief K Chandrashekar Rao, Mamata Banerjee prudently decided to confine herself to West Bengal, the only political real estate she possesses. Her flights outside Bengal were grounded a little after takeoff, although she hasn't abandoned her blueprint to grow in the northeast. Her electoral calculations for Assam and Tripura do not factor in the Congress.

Undaunted by the setback in Gujarat—which he insists was a "breakthrough"—Aam Aadmi Party leader Arvind Kejriwal thinks he has arrived nationally. Collaborating with the Congress is unthinkable for him. Like the BRS, the AAP is sanguine in the belief that to grow and enlarge, it must vanquish the Congress before confronting the BJP with all its might.

Uttar Pradesh, the political crucible, is where the Opposition needs to get together to challenge a near-hegemonic BJP but will not. The Congress might yield some ground to the Samajwadi Party as it did in the recent Mainpuri Lok Sabha bypoll, but that's it. In the imaginary land where they live, UP's non-BJP actors are convinced it's still the Eighties and Nineties when the BJP was a player like the rest. As long as the BJP's supremacy over UP remains, it's a tad pointless to conclude that the playing field is levelled. Far from it. The pitch will be as hostile towards the Opposition as it was in 2014 and 2019.

Arrangements between the Opposition parties can be struck strategically, but is there a glue to bind the entities together? Secularism is a dead horse; in any case, most parties are too fearful of uttering the S word. Federalism is anathema to the Congress which is as committed to upholding a strong centre as the BJP. Economic policies? Again there's no clarity because every non-BJP party wants investments, so veering Leftwards is non-pragmatic. With a year-and-a-half left for the next Parliamentary polls, the prospects do not look bright for the Opposition, any which way.

WALKING WITH RAHUL GANDHI

SHIV VISVANATHAN

Social scientist associated with THE COMPOST HEAP, a group researching alternative imaginations

A walk is a modest event, a quiet effort that cleanses the spirit. It is a physical act that reaches the level of the spiritual as a pilgrimage. A pilgrimage as an encounter with the other is eventually an attempt to discover the self. A walk cleanses the self and is an invitation to the community. As an act of solidarity, it is exhilarating.

As an animated event, it becomes a drama. An increase in pace, it becomes a march, and accelerated further, it is an act of aggressive goose-stepping. Choreographed right, it becomes a forum of conversation and cleanses protest. In that sense, a walk can be an everyday event and yet create history.

Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra began with little fanfare. His walk appeared humble and tentative; while Narendra Modi was literally goose-stepping into the G20 presidency, Rahul looked like he was taking an absent-minded break from politics. Initially, the media deadpanned the event, reading it as a symptom of his political weakness. Initially, he sounded like a bad actor with tired lines, invoking his family. But as he evoked his standard lines, his presentation improved.

Ideas began appearing and curiosity increased, with politicians and actors like Swara Bhasker, Kanimozhi and Kamal Haasan joining him with obvious interest. This list became a symbolic directory of intellectual and cultural support and included Pooja Bhatt, Ganesh Devy, Bezwada Wilson, Harsh Mander, and Raghuram Rajan. The intellectual quality and integrity of these individuals became testimony to this event. It was no longer about Rahul, but a ritual act, a prayer, and an appeal to India to begin rethinking and healing. A tentative Rahul had struck the right chord. One must thank these leaders because they talk of a different quality of politics that avoids the nitpicking nature of media or party leaders. For once, Rahul's personality helped. His beard added gravitas to his persona, and his comments on Savarkar the right fuel to the fire. One suddenly sensed a different man, a different event.

What began as a boy scout act of diffident innocence suddenly acquired a dramatic power; it became a series of cameo events of anticipation. Even if Rahul occasionally stumbled, the retinue of supporting actors sustained the show. In fact, the BJP, in a final act of desperation, decided to invoke Covid. What worked for Shaheen Bagh failed to work for Bharat Jodo. It became a river flowing across the country, collecting gossip and inviting debate.

It was brilliantly choreographed theatre, a style of inclusive politics that was endearing and thoughtful. It was clear that Rahul was the centre, but not the centrepiece. What was central was an invitation to India to heal itself. It was an appeal to alternative politics—not as a hard sell but as a tentative experiment.

Rahul had found the right grammar of theatre, especially in how he greeted children, acknowledged the support, and hugged his mother Sonia, signalling a different exuberance and maturity.

PTI

> Even if the walk ends here, there will be no sense of closure. It is an invitation to a manthan, a slow churning of ideas, not a collection of diktats. Even old professional Congressmen seemed surprised at Rahul's glowing report card

Indian unity and the idea of India have been resonating themes. Rahul was going beyond ideologies and family, back to fundamental themes without textbook answers. As one housewife said, it was her favourite serial, invoking both the primordial and the contemporary. Visually, Rahul looked different, quieter, surer, and open-ended, not imposing idiot history but inviting people to suggest solutions and share their problems.

The sense of anticipation was more important as it struck the right musical chord. The gossip of the event and social media managed to outlast the indifference of national media. It is these gains of orality against media that will become significant for the future.

The India Rahul is working for is the nation, not the nation-state. He is invoking memories and folktales beyond the textbook history of the BJP. A humbler Rahul sounds like a more effective Rahul. Intuitively, Rahul's organisers captured the rhythm and geography of the walk.

It is a pilgrimage, a set of encounters, and a celebration of the country, with every state joining in to add to the bouquet called India. This is not the ritual of cadres. Slogans varied from state to state, from event to event; there was a sense of plurality, a humility about solutions and yet a celebration of democracy. It is the setting up of a new syllabus of politics, an India imagined between Kamal Haasan and Bezwada Wilson.

Even if the walk ends here, there will be no sense of closure. It is an invitation to a manthan, a slow churning of ideas, not a collection of diktats. Even old professional Congressmen seemed surprised at Rahul's glowing report card. Rahul needs to thank civil society for the strategic help it gave him.

One must be careful about assessing events and processes such as Bharat Jodo Yatra, as it is an open drama that can have many interpretations. It has obviously done a few things. It has shown us a different Rahul, it has given Congressmen a sense of repair, and it has brought to the fore intellectuals who see an India beyond party ideology. It has actually created a new tentative idea of India. A festival of recipes one must work at.

Democracy repeatedly demands a politics of theatre that recharges ideals, introduces new actors, and revitalises old scripts. It needs rituals which demonstrate not ready-made solutions but a different way of doing things. The ham-handedness of the media and BJP showed that it is out of touch with people. Cadres are not always an answer to politics. India is always looking for alternatives and is ready to wait for them. What is endearing is, for once, Rahul is not part of the problem but, in fact, part of the solution. One cannot ask for more from a good politician.

Forgotten ideals

Apropos of CPM PB today, to discuss charges against EP (Dec 27). Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan is mired in one problem after another in the wake of allegations against senior leader E P Jayarajan. The ideals of the Communist party vanish into thin air when cadres are exposed to the temptations of meaty land and property deals. The aspects of socialism are conveniently forgotten when it comes to enriching oneself financially.

Waving bye to Covid wave

It is good that Karnataka has imposed compulsory mask-wearing at public gatherings and institutions to deal with the upcoming Covid wave that has been raging in China, Japan and the USA, among others. Before things get out of hand, all states must put some preventive measures in place so as to avert extreme situations like lockdowns.

India, the foodgrain bowl

Apropos of 'India set to become foodgrain bowl' (Dec 27). The soil health cards, latest technologies, and reasonable prices for agricultural produce are genuine factors that will pave the way for India to become a foodgrain bowl. Understanding the needs of people is not a small matter. In PM Modi's tenure, the overall progress made cannot be ignored by people and political leaders.

Players not in form

Rahul and Virat Kohli have become non-performing assets. Undoubtedly, they were great batters and brought many laurels to India. But they failed miserably against the Bangladesh team; it was Ravichandran Ashwin who saved the day. Instead of utilising it as a platform to regain their form, they exhibited their continuous inconsistency. Only the fittest should be allowed to stay.

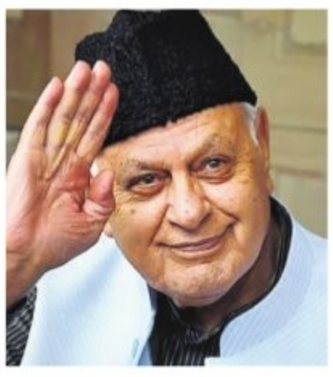
Farooq, Omar & Mehbooba to join Yatra in J&K

CPM's Mohammad Yousuf Tarigami will also join Rahul Gandhi when Bharat Jodo Yatra reaches UT on Jan 22

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar



THREE former Jammu and Kashmir chief ministers — Farooq Abdullah, Omar Abdullah and Mehbooba Mufti — and CPM leader Mohammad Yousuf Tarigami would be joining Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra that would reach J&K on January 22.

Congress leader K C Venugopal told the media in Srinagar that people of J&K are eagerly waiting for the march to reach the Union Territory. "They will receive the Yatra in J&K with their open hearts, like it happened in other states, Venugopal said. "The Congress has a separate affection for J&K. We know Kashmir's legacy very well and Congress's history is very much related to Kashmir's history," he added.

Asked whether J&K leaders would join the march, he said, "Farooq Abdullah, Omar Abdullah, Mehbooba Mufti and Tarigami are ready to join. It is a happy moment for us. All leaders of J&K will be joining this yatra. Like-minded people who don't believe in BJP's divisive politics are joining us."

Venugopal also said that they met J&K Lt Governor Manoj Sinha on Monday and he has offered all cooperation for the smooth conduct of the march. He slammed the Union government, saying it is creating a "drama" on the pretext of Covid-19 threat to stop the Yatra.

"All the flights are coming from China. There is no national-level protocol suggested by the WHO. Why is the health minister's Covid protocol only for Rahul Gandhi and Bharat Jodo Yatra? All the government programmes are happening everywhere, the big mela is happening in Gujarat, where lakhs of people are participating. Besides, the Prime Minister is going here and there and attending public meetings," Venugopal said.

"Whenever the government comes up with a guideline supported by experts and WHO, we are ready to accept it," he said.

Maintaining that the rally is a national padyatra, Venugopal said Rahul Gandhi has already made it clear that come what may, "we will go through the entire route of the country till Kashmir. We will hoist the national flag in Kashmir."

He announced that the march is expected to enter J&K on January 22 and will remain there till January 30.

A few hours later, PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti tweeted to confirm that she has been invited to join the Yatra.

Khurshid likens Rahul to Ram

Lucknow: Former Union Minister and senior Congress leader Salman Khurshid, who is coordinating the Yatra in UP, compared Rahul Gandhi with Lord Ram calling him a superhuman who was taking the Yatra as a 'tapasya' (penance). While interacting with media persons in Gajraula in Amroha, Khurshid said that where ever Rahul Gandhi was not able to walk, the party was visiting those places as his representative. "The Khadaun (sandles) of Lord Ram go places. Wherever Lord Ram fails to make it, Bharat visits those places with his Khadaun. We have also come to UP by taking Rahul Gandhi's Khadaun, now he will also come," said Khurshid.

Oppn up in arms, says book Pragya over knife remark

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

Jairam Ramesh says will move top court

Congress leader Jairam Ramesh on Tuesday said BJP MP Pragya Singh Thakur's remarks at a function in Karnataka's Shivamogga are a clear example of hate speech and he would move the Supreme Court against her. Ramesh said he would file a case against Thakur in the apex court as the police in Karnataka would not act against the BJP MP. Karnataka is currently being ruled by the BJP and the Assembly polls are due in the state early next year

AFTER a political storm broke out over Bhopal BJP MP Pragya Thakur's "keep knives sharpened" remarks, various opposition parties on Tuesday called for slapping hate speech charges against the Lok Sabha MP.

While some leaders of the opposition parties lodged complaints against the firebrand MP in Karnataka's Shivamogga, where she made the speech, Madhya Pradesh Congress leaders have demanded that a case of treason be registered against Thakur for her provocative remarks.

Slamming the BJP MP, AICC General Secretary (Communication) Jairam Ramesh said that 'it was a textbook case of hate speech and Thakur must be prosecuted'.

Thakur, while addressing a programme in Shivamogga on Sunday, said that Hindus have the right to respond to those who attack them and their dignity. The Bhopal MP also called on the community to keep the knives sharp and ready ar their homes, as everyone has the right to protect.

"Keep weapons in your homes, if nothing else, at least knives used to cut vegetables, sharp. Don't know what situation will arise when..Everyone has the right to self protection. If someone invades our house and attacks us, we have the right to give them back," she said during the speech.

While TMC national spokesperson Saket Gokhale tweeted that he filed a complaint with the Karnataka Police and the Shivamogga superintendent of police (SP) regarding the communal hate speech made by Thakur, another complaint was lodged by the Congress supporter Tehseen Poonawalla in Shivamogga. Poonawalla also urged the police to register an FIR against Thakur under Indian Penal Code (IPC).

Since Sunday, the Bhopal MP's comments have invited scathing criticism from many quarters, while the BJP backed the MP saying that it was for women's self-defence. Taking a jibe at the Prime minister, senior Rajya Sabha MP Abhishek Singhvi expressed doubt whether its' a strategy of letting the fringe to polarize.

"Can we expect Modi-ji to cry another river after Pragya Thakur's horrendous public speech spreading hate and enmity or is this part of a careful strategy of letting the fringe do its job to polarize," he tweeted.

Responding to Thakur's comments, Shiv Sena MP Priyanka Chaturvedi tweeted, "From Goli Maaro (shoot) to Chaku maaro (stab). Sirf Nafrat Baato for BJP leaders (they only spread hatred)," she said.

The BJP MP is an accused in the 2008 Malegaon blast case.

Six individuals were killed and more than 100 were injured when an explosive device strapped to a motorcycle went off near a mosque in Malegaon in north Maharashtra on September 29, 2008.

No OBC quota, no local body polls: Yogi

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

POLLS to UP's urban local bodies seem headed for a delay despite the Allahabad high court directing the state election commission to notify it immediately without OBC reservation, since the state government has no intention of holding it without making provisions for the quota.

Earlier in the day, the court had quashed the UP government's proposed OBC quota for the civic polls, saying until the triple test mandated by the Supreme Court is complete, no reservation for the backward classes could be provided. The triple test requires the setting up of a commission to establish the nature of backwardness; specifying the proportion of reservation; and staying within the 50% quota limit.

In a statement, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath said his government would form a commission to comply with the triple test, adding local body polls would be conducted only after providing OBC reservation. He said his government would move the Supreme Court, if need be.

Non-Yadav OBCs are part of the BJP's vote bank in UP. In the 2022 Assembly polls in the state, around 64% of non-Yadav OBCs had voted for the ruling party.

The chief minister's statement came after the Opposition pounced on the HC order and sought to label the state government as anti-OBC.

Covid: Bharat Biotech's nasal booster vaccine priced at ₹800

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

BHARAT Biotech's iNCOVACC, India's first intranasal Covid-19 vaccine approved for booster doses. They are priced at ₹800 per dose for the market and at ₹325 for government hospitals.

The Hyderabad-based company said the vaccine is available on the government's CoWIN website. It will be available in the market by January-end for those above 18.

Bharat Biotech's needle-free vaccine – BBV154 – received approval from the Drugs Controller General of India in November for restricted use in emergency for those above 18.

The vaccine has been approved for mix-and-match usage (or heterologous vaccination), wherein a benecifiary may be administered shots of different Covid vaccines. Earlier this month, it was approved as heterologous booster dose.

The vaccine, iNCOVACC, is the world's first intranasal vaccine for Covid to receive approval for the preliminary 2-dose schedule, the Hyderabad-based company had said.

The pharma giant's executive chairman Dr Krishna Ella said, "We have achieved the goals we set for ourselves during this pandemic. We have developed COVAXIN and iNCOVACC, two COVID vaccines from two different platforms with two other delivery systems.

"The vectored intranasal delivery platform gives us the capability for rapid product development, scale-up, easy and painless immunisation during public health emergencies and pandemics," Ella said.

Two separate and simultaneous clinical trials were conducted to evaluate BBV154 as a primary dose (2-dose) schedule; and a heterologous booster dose for subjects who have previously received two doses of the two commonly administered covid vaccines in India.

The trials for the primary dose were conducted among 3,100 subjects in 14 trial sites across the country, while the heterologous booster dose was done at nine trial sites among 875 subjects.

iNCOVACC is stable at 2-8°C for easy storage and distribution. Bharat Biotech has established extensive manufacturing capabilities at multiple sites across India, including in Gujarat, Karnataka, Maharashtra and Telangana.

Mandaviya reviews steps taken across the country

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

INDIA on Tuesday held country-wide mock drills to check the emergency preparedness for Covid-19 in the wake of a surge in Covid-19 cases globally, especially in China.

Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya reviewed the Covid response mock drill at the centre-run Safdarjung Hospital in Delhi.

"I reviewed the Covid response mock drill at Safdarjung Hospital. This mock drill was necessary to know how prepared our hospitals are," he said, as drills were held across health facilities in several states and union territories to ensure their readiness to deal with any eventuality.

"Mock drills were conducted across Covid hospitals to ensure people get proper care. Covid cases are rising worldwide, and India might witness a spike in cases too. Hence, it is vital that the entire Covid defence in terms of equipment, processes and human resources are at a state of operational readiness," he said.

SC's many unprecedented moves in 2022

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

YearEnder 2022

SUPREME Court in its long history of 72 years in 2022 witnessed many "firsts" and "historic, unprecedented moves". Not only were SCs affairs handed over to three CJIs but lawyers, journalists and common man also experienced a breeze of fresh air with new changes being introduced for making the justice delivery system accessible and transparent.

The year 2022 saw SC put on hold colonial sedition law, upheld the stringent provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, allowed a 10 per cent quota for Economically Weaker Section by a majority of 3:2, also upheld the clean chit given to PM Modi by SIT in 2002 Godhra riots and delivered a split verdict in pleas challenging Karnataka HC's ruling of upholding ban of hijab in educational institutions. The court also played an imperative role in chalking the path in the rift between Maha Vikas Aghadi regime and the Eknath Shinde-led Maharashtra government.

Under CJI NV Ramana's tenure, many issues of national and constitutional significance could not see the light of the day but when Justice U U Lalit took over as in charge of SC's helm of affairs the corridors of the country's topmost court were filled with hope. Justice Lalit in his short tenure of 74 days had left an indelible mark by listing pleas challenging the constitutionality of the Citizenship Amendment Act 2019, Centre's demonetisation policy of 2016, and pleas related to the anonymous electoral bonds scheme that were lying in judicial docket. Not only were six constitution benches set up but eight lakh viewers were also able to tune into the first-ever live session to watch proceedings that were going on before the constitution benches. With Justice D Y Chandrachud, son of the longest serving CJI Justice Y V Chandrachud, swearing in as the 50th CJI on November 9, 2022, the Indian Judiciary witnessed a historic moment as it got its only father-son duo to reach the position of CJI.

As a protector of human rights, SC also passed several decisions in favour of women that ranged from granting unmarried women the right to abort the pregnancy up to 24 weeks to allowing a married woman to terminate forceful pregnancy by treating it as "marital rape" and also banning the two-finger test which re-victimised and re-traumatised women who may have been sexually assaulted. As a guarantor of personal liberty, Supreme Court granted interim bail to social activist Teesta Setalvad, and bail to journalist Siddique Kappan in the Hathras Conspiracy case. Although Bhima Koregaon accused GN Saibaba's bail was cancelled in a special sitting held on Saturday other accused such as Gautam Navalkha, Anand Teltumbde, and P Varavara Rao breathed a sigh of relief.

SC had also set aside HC's order of accepting pleas seeking an ED probe against Jharkhand CM Hemant Soren for alleged money laundering through several shell companies. A bench headed by Justice Ajay Rastogi also issued notice in pleas challenging the remission granted to the convicts in Bilkis Bano gang rape case.

EC makes 2001 census basis of Assam delimitation

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

THE Election Commission has decided to initiate the delimitation exercise of Assembly and Parliamentary constituencies in Assam. The 2001 Census figures will be used for the purpose of readjustment of the constituencies, the EC said on Tuesday.

The EC directed Assam's chief electoral officer to take up the matter with the state government for issuance of a complete ban on the creation of new administrative units with effect from January 1 until the completion of the delimitation exercise.

"As mandated under Article 170 of the Constitution, Census figures (2001) shall be used for the purpose of readjustment of Parliamentary and Assembly constituencies in the State. Reservation of seats for the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes will be provided as per Articles 330 & 332 of the Constitution of India," the Election Commission statement said.

The EC will design and finalise its own guidelines and methodology for the purpose of delimiting the constituencies.

During the delimitation exercise, it will keep in mind the physical features, existing boundaries of administrative units, facility of communication, and public convenience. The EC said as far as practicable, the constituencies would be kept as geographically compact areas.

"Once a draft proposal of delimitation of constituencies... is finalised by the Commission, it shall be published in the Central and state gazettes for inviting suggestions/objections from the general public.

In this regard, a notice will also be published in two vernacular newspapers of the state specifying the date and venue for public sittings to be held in the state," the statement said.

On November 15 this year, the ministry of law & justice had requested the EC to conduct the delimitation exercise in Assam. The last delimitation exercise in the state was conducted in 1976 based on the 1971 Census figures.

Gehlot takes swipe at Pilot yet again

Says he became the chief minister thrice not due to his caste, in remark pointed at his rival

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

SIGNALLING yet another spell of the well-known rivalry within the Rajasthan Congress, Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot has said he rose to the top post thrice not because of his caste but due to the support of all sections of society, in a veiled attack on his bête noir Sachin Pilot.

Days after Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra went beyond the state, Gehlot commented that nobody can become the CM with the support of one caste only. This is being seen as an indirect attack on Sachin Pilot-led Gujjar group that has demanded that Pilot should become the CM.

Gehlot's remarks come a couple of days before the Congress holds a state-level conference in which the in-charge of Rajasthan Sukhwinder Randhawa will also participate and find out the current mood among the party MLAs.

Speaking at a public meeting in Nadbai, a Gujjar-dominated area of Bharatpur, Gehlot, without naming anyone, made it clear where his remarks were aimed at. "I am the Chief Minister, and I want to serve every community, be it Jat, Gujjar, Rajput, Kushwaha, Jatav, Brahmin, Bania, Meena and others. I know that no chief minister is made on the basis of caste," said Gehlot. Sachin Pilot comes from the electorally influential Gujjar community, which has repeatedly demanded that he should be the CM on the basis of caste support.

Gehlot said he was lucky that despite being the only MLA from his caste (Mali), he became the CM, not once but thrice, as he "got the blessings of entire Rajasthan." He said he could never have become the CM had he not received the support of all communities.

So far, neither Pilot nor have his supporters hit back at Gehlot. Observers doubt if the current spell of ceasefire between Gehlot and Sachin seen during Rahul's Yatra will last long.

A state-level convention of the Rajasthan Congress is due December 28 which will see Party MLAs interacting with the party's top leadership for the first time after September 25. Randhawa will start interaction with MLAs and party workers on December 28-29. The meeting venue is the new party headquarters on Hospital Road in Jaipur.

Randhawa's separate meeting with the MLAs is being considered an informal legislature party meeting where Randhawa will try to know what Congress MLAs feel about the various issues, including about the state leadership.

Whether the MLAs will have a one-on-one with Randhawa or in a group will be decided after his arrival in Jaipur, party sources said.

It was in mid-2020 that Sachin Pilot revolted against Gehlot along with 19 of his loyalist MLAs. The attempted coup came a cropper nearly a month later. Pilot was taken back into the party fold, but he lost his number two position in the cabinet as well as the state party chief's post.

Then party chief Sonia Gandhi had set up a three-member panel of Ajay Maken, AICC general secretary organisation KC Venugopal and senior party leader Ahmed Patel to iron out differences within the state leadership.

Since then, the Gehlot-Pilot rivalry has erupted at least half-a-dozen times, with Gehlot describing his rival as 'gaddar' (traitor). With the Assembly polls due next year followed by the general election, the Congress wants to put up a united face against the aggressive yet faction-driven BJP.

Row over caste bias in U'khand school's midday meals, probe ordered

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand education department is facing criticism over queues of children separated on the basis of caste for midday meals in a government school in Almora. The district administration has ordered a probe.

Reports said Scheduled Caste children studying in a primary school at Thalli in Dhauladevi block of Almora were being discriminated against, as children belonging to upper castes were served separate meals.

When Harish Ram, a resident of village Thali in Dhauladevi development block, reached the school on Monday to inquire about his child, he found separate queues of students for midday meals. When he objected to it and reportedly made the video, he was called to the police station. The villagers have alleged that policemen posted at Thana Danya had threatened to lock up Harish.

The allegations about caste discrimination were been made by one Mahipal Prashad, a representative of the Dalit community on behalf of the students. After the video went viral, the parents submitted a memorandum to the SDM Gopal Singh Chauhan on Monday demanding action.

"Bhaloni tehsildar Barkha Jalal has been appointed the investigating officer. She will submit her report after an on-the-spot investigation of the case by Wednesday evening," the SDM told this paper.

There have been allegations that children from the Dalit community were made to sit separately while having the midday meal in a primary school.

Terror plot: 3 held with ready-to-use grenade launcher in Punjab

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

PUNJAB Police on Tuesday recovered a loaded RPG (rocket-propelled grenade) along with its launcher from three arrested suspects who were allegedly a part of the terror module belonging to the Canada-based terrorist Lakhbir Landa.

The Sirhali police in the border district of Firozpur said one Yadwinder Singh from the Philippines handled the three-man sub-module at Landa's behest. The police have called Army officers and forensic teams to examine the RPG and rocket launcher. State DGP Gaurav Yadav identified the three suspects as Kulbir Singh, Hira Singh, and Davinder Singh, all residents of village Chambal in Tarn Taran. The police have also booked Yadwinder Singh, he added.

"With the recovery of a ready-to-use RPG, the police have successfully thwarted another possible terrorist attack aimed at disturbing the peace in the state," said the DGP. The incident came days after the arrest of seven persons, including two juveniles, who targeted the Sirhali police station building in Tarn Taran on December 9. Yadav said that based on intelligence inputs, the Tarn Taran police set up a monitoring and check post at a bridge Billianwala and arrested two bike-borne persons identified as Kulbir Singh and Hira Singh for their role in the Sirhali RPG attack.

Tarn Taran's Senior Superintendent of Police Gurmeet Singh Chauhan said during interrogation, the accused revealed that they provided one loaded RPG on the day of the RPG attack on the police station at the behest of Yadwinder Singh, currently living in Manila, Philippines. Yadwinder had also sent a tutorial video on how to launch an RPG attack to train the juveniles, he said.

The accused were arrrested with the RPG near Firozpur on Tuesday | Express

Leopard attack in Assam district leaves 15 hurt; captured after 24 hrs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

A leopard in Assam's Jorhat attacked 15 people before it was tranquilised and sent to a rehabilitation centre on Tuesday. The big cat unleashed the terror in the Rainforest Research Institute campus in upper Assam town on Monday morning. The injured people were admitted to a local hospital and stated to be out of danger.

Official sources said it took nearly 24 hours for the forest staff to locate the animal. It was captured on Tuesday morning. The Centre for Wildlife Rehabilitation and Conservation (CWRC) head and WTI joint director Rathin Barman told this newspaper that a vet was brought to Jorhat to tranquilise the leopard. After the tranquilisation, the forest officials noticed multiple injuries in one leg of the animal and sent it to CWRC in Kaziranga for medical care.

"We noticed multiple fractures in one leg of the leopard and have started the treatment immediately at CWRC," he said. "The animal was injured from before. We suspect that someone must have attacked it and that's why, it showed so much of aggression," Barman said. He also said that the Rainforest Research Institute and its surrounding areas have leopards from before and human-leopard conflicts are common in Assam. There have been numerous incidents in the past when people killed leopards after they appeared in human settlements.

The injured were treated at a local hospital in Jorhat on Tuesday | PARIKHIT SAIKIA

Post notification, hoteliers pin hopes on L-G

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

THE hoteliers in Jammu and Kashmir are hopeful that the Lt-Governor administration won't go for re-auction of properties of those whose lease period has expired, after the meetings with the government officials on Tuesday.

The meeting was held following the notification of J&K Land Grant Rules-2022 mandating all outgoing lessees to hand over possession of land taken on lease for commercial purpose to the government or face eviction.

Gulmarg Hoteliers Club president Aqib Chaya told this newspaper that they had a positive meeting with several government officials on new J&K Land Grant Rules. "We have also decided to meet Lt Governor Manoj Sinha," he said. Chaya said they are hopeful that the government will not disorient the hoteliers, whose lease period of properties has expired, from Gulmarg, Pahalgam, Srinagar, Raghunath Bazar, K C Road and other areas.

"The government has assured us that they will take everybody on board and find a way out," he said. In the new Land Grant Rules-2022 notified by J&K government, all the outgoing lessees (except in the case of subsisting/expired leases for residential purposes) shall immediately handover the possession of the land taken on lease to the government, failing which the outgoing lessee shall be evicted as per the provisions of public premises (eviction of un-authorized occupant) Act, 1988.

The lease will not be renewed and would stand determined. Almost all the hotels in the ski-resort of Gulmarg are on leased land and the lease period of almost all 59 properties has expired. According to the hoteliers, Gulmarg would have to be closed as all hotels and huts in the resort are on leased land.

Aqib said they have been assured by the government that there would not be re-auction of the leased properties and some arrangements would be made. "We have full hope in the LG administration and central government," he said. Ex-president Jammu Hotel, Restaurant and Bar Association Kuldip Wahi said the Jammu chamber is taking up the issue with the government.

He said the properties, whose lease has expired, should not be re-auctioned. "Instead it should be re-auctioned to the concerned person by increasing the premium," Wahi said.

He said the Lt Governor administration should take the stakeholders into confidence before implementing the new rules. Inderjeet Khajuria, chairman All Jammu Hotel and Lodges Association said the government should not conduct re-auctioned the properties as the lessees would suffer.

The Jammu hoteliers are also planning to meet J&K Chief Secretary and Lt Governor Manoj Sinha.

Putin signs decree banning crude oil export to nations with price cap

Decree to be in force from Feb 1 to July 1; Lavrov asks Ukraine to demilitarise immediately

MOSCOW/KYIV

RUSSIA on Tuesday issued a decree banning oil sales to countries and companies that comply with a price cap agreed by Western countries in response to Moscow's offensive in Ukraine. "The supply of Russian oil and oil products to foreign legal entities and individuals is prohibited if the contracts for these supplies directly or indirectly" are using a price cap, the presidential decree said.

The decree will be in effect from February 1 until July 1. It added that the ban may be lifted in individual cases on the basis of "special decision" from Russian President Putin.

The price ceiling of $60 per barrel agreed by the European Union, G7 and Australia came into force in early December and seeks to restrict Russia's revenue while making sure Moscow keeps supplying the global market.

Introduced alongside an EU embargo on seaborne deliveries of Russian crude oil, the cap aims to ensure Russia cannot bypass the embargo by selling its oil at high prices.

Earlier in the day, Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov warned that Ukraine must meet Moscow's demand for 'demilitarisation' and 'denazification,' as well as the removal of the military threat to Russia, otherwise "the Russian army (will) solve the issue."

Lavrov accused the West of fuelling the war to weaken Russia, and said that it depends on Kyiv and Washington how long the conflict, which started on February 24 when Russia invaded Ukraine, will last.

"As for the duration of the conflict, the ball is on the side of the (Kyiv) regime and Washington that stands behind its back," Lavrov told Tass.

In an apparent reaction, Ukrainian presidential adviser Mykhailo Podolyak tweeted that "Russia needs to face the reality."

"Neither total mobilisation, nor panicky search for ammo, nor secret contracts with Iran, nor Lavrov's threats will help," he said. "Ukraine will demilitarise the RF (Russian Federation) to the end, oust the invaders from all occupied territories." AP

Direct confrontation possible, West told

Russian foreign minister Sergey Lavrov warned that further Western support for Ukraine could lead to direct confrontation. "We keep warning our adversaries in the West about the dangers of their course to escalate the Ukrainian crisis," he said, adding that "the risk that the situation could spin out of control remains high."

CALLS TO DENY HEALTHCARE TO LGBTQ

It was part of a broader blowback against remarks made this week by Religious Zionism politicians calling for legal discrimination against LGBTQ people

Earlier this week, two Netanyahu allies from the ultranationalist Religious Zionism party said that their faction seeks to change an anti-discrimination law in a way that would permit businesses and doctors to deny service to LGBTQ people on the basis of religious belief

Orit Struck, a Religious Zionist lawmaker, said her party seeks a change to the country's anti-discrimination law that would include allowing religious healthcare providers to refuse to treat LGBTQ patients "so long as there are enough other doctors to provide care"

Netanyahu later rebuked Orit Struck for her remarks, and said that there would be no curtailing or changing of the LGBTQ rights under the new government

Docs, firms reject Netanyahu ally's anti-LGBTQ remarks

Israel's largest medical centre and healthcare workers from hospitals around the country have spoken out against remarks by allies of Benjamin Netanyahu calling for a law to allow discrimination against LGBTQ people in hospitals and businesses

GOVT UNDER FIRE

Yated Neeman, a newspaper affiliated with one of the ultra-Orthodox parties in Netanyahu's coalition, published an editorial against the Religious Zionism politicians, saying they were 'defaming Judaism worldwide'

It branded the future government as "one that persecutes Arabs, minorities and discriminates against people on the basis of religion and more"

EXTENDING SUPPORT

Sheba Medical Center released a video on Instagram of healthcare workers from around the country saying 'We treat everyone'

Similar statements were made by doctors and administrators at Rambam Medical Center in Haifa and Barzilai Hospital in Ashkelon

Several Israeli firms said they would not work with businesses that discriminate against clients for religious reasons

Bank Discount, Israel's third largest bank, said that its board decided that it "would not grant credit to businesses or bodies that discriminate against clients on the basis of religion, race, sex or sexual orientation"

Wiz, an Israeli cybersecurity firm, expressed grave concern over Religious Zionism politicians' remarks and said it would require companies hiring its services to commit not to discriminate against its clients

Seoul apologises for not downing N. Korea drones

South Korea's military apologised on Tuesday for failing to shoot down five North Korean drones that crossed their shared border after facing wide criticism over its lack of readiness. "Yesterday, five enemy drones invaded South Korean airspace, and our military detected and tracked them, but we apologise for not being able to shoot them down," the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS) said. South Korean President Yoon Suk-yeol said on Tuesday the incident showed that the military's readiness was 'greatly lacking.'

Probing body says attack on Imran a well thought plan

LAHORE

THE assassination bid on Pakistan's ex-PM Imran Khan during his long march to Islamabad last month was a "well-thought-out conspiracy," as per Joint Investigation Team (JIT) probing the incident.

Imran suffered bullet injuries in the right leg on November 3 when two gunmen fired a volley of bullets at him in Wazirabad, where he was leading the long march to press for snap polls.

Briefing the media on the findings of the JIT headed by Lahore police chief Ghulam Mahmood Dogar, Punjab Home Minister Omar Sarfraz Cheema said that the gun attack on Imran was "organised one and well-thought-out conspiracy." He said the JIT investigation found that more than one attacker tried to assassinate Imran.

Police had arrested the prime suspect, Muhammad Naveed, who has been in the JIT custody on a physical remand till January 3 for interrogation.

The minister said Naveed is a "trained assassin and he was present at the crime scene with his accomplices." He said Naveed also failed a polygraph test. Naveed had told police he wanted to kill Imran as music was played during Azan time during his long march/rally.

Naveed's cousin Muhammad Waqas has also been in the JIT's custody till January 3 for a controversial social media post. Waqas on November 3 had tweeted "something big is going to happen today in Imran Khan's rally".

Imran had blamed PM Shehbaz Sharif, Interior Minister Rana Sanaullah and Maj. Gen. Faisal Naseer for hatching a plot to assassinate him. PTI

Taiwan extends compulsory military service to 1 year citing China threats

TAIPEI

TAIWAN will extend its compulsory military service from four months to a year starting in 2024, President Tsai Ing-wen said on Tuesday, as the self-ruled island faces China's military, diplomatic and trade pressure.

The longer military service applies to men born after 2005, and will start from January 1, 2024. Those born before 2005 will continue to serve four months, but under a revamped training curriculum aimed at strengthening the island's reserves forces. China's "intimidation and threats against Taiwan are getting more obvious", President Tsai Ing-wen told a press conference.

"No one wants war... but my fellow countrymen, peace will not fall from the sky. The current four-month military service is not enough to meet the fast and ever-changing situation," she said. "We have decided to restore the one-year military service from 2024."

Tsai described the extension as "an extremely difficult decision... to ensure the democratic way of life for our future generations."

"We can only avoid a war by preparing for a war and we can only stop a war by being capable of fighting a war." Mandatory service used to be deeply unpopular in Taiwan, and its previous government had reduced it from one year to four months with the aim of creating a volunteer force.

A poll from the Taiwanese Public Opinion Foundation in December found that among Taiwanese adults, 73.2% said they would support a one-year military service. That support was across party lines, the survey found, spanning the Democratic Progressive Party and the more China-friendly Nationalist Party. Agencies

JAPAN PM SACKS MIN OVER MISHANDLING OF ELECTION FUNDS

TOKYO

JAPAN'S PM Fumio Kishida on Tuesday dismissed his fourth minister in two months to patch a scandal-tainted Cabinet that has raised questions over his judgement of staff credentials. Kenya Akiba, minister in charge of reconstruction of Fukushima and other disaster-hit areas, has faced allegations of mishandling political and election funds and of ties to the Unification Church, whose practices have raised controversy.

"I have made a heavy decision and submitted my resignation," Akiba said after meeting with Kishida. He repeated that he has never violated any law in relation to the issues for which he has been criticised and that he was resigning because he didn't want to trouble the party or stall parliamentary debate because of his presence in the Cabinet.

Kishida tapped former reconstruction minister Hiromichi Watanabe as a replacement. Akiba's dismissal was seen as Kishida's attempt to remove an administration's soft spot that could stall upcoming parliamentary work on a key budget bill, including hefty defence spending aimed at bolstering Japan's strike capability.

"I take my responsibility of appointment very seriously," Kishida said. "I will keep fulfilling my...responsibility by continuing to tackle a mountain of problems." AP

China quarantine off, Japan tightens curbs

BEIJING

FOREIGN firms welcomed China's decision to end quarantines for travellers from abroad as an important step to revive slumping business activity.

The announcement late Monday that quarantines for travellers from abroad will end on January 8 is the biggest step toward ending limits that have kept most foreign visitors out of China since early 2020. "It finally feels like China has turned the corner," the chairman of the American Chamber of Commerce in China, Colm Rafferty, said.

The British Chamber of Commerce expressed hope China will restart normal processing of business visas to allow "resumption of crucial people to people exchanges." It said that will "contribute to restoring optimism and reinstating China as a priority investment destination."

The move "will potentially boost business confidence," but companies are likely to "wait to see how the situation on the ground evolves" before making long-term decisions, the European Chamber of Commerce in China said in a statement.

Meanwhile, Japanese PM Fumio Kishida said on Tuesday that Japan will tighten border controls for Covid-19 by requiring tests for all visitors from China starting on Friday as a temporary emergency measure. Visitors who test positive will be quarantined for one week. Kishida said China's lack of information and transparency about the infections made it difficult to assess and figure out safety measures. There are huge discrepancies between information from central and local authorities, and between the government and private organisations, he said. "There are growing worries in Japan. We have decided to take a temporary special measure to respond to the situation." AP

Pakistan plans special security amid warnings

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN Police on Tuesday announced special security measures, including setting up 25 new check-posts, to tighten security in the federal capital here after several countries like the US, UK, Saudi Arabia and Australia asked their citizens to restrict their movement, warning of a possible terror threat.

As per security plan, shared on Islamabad police's official Twitter account, entry points of the Red Zone will be recorded via Safe City cameras while video surveillance of metro bus passengers would also be conducted.

Pakistani citizens as well as foreign nationals have been asked to carry their identification documents with them.

"Special security plan issued in view of the current security situation in Islamabad. Temporary security check posts have been established at 25 different locations in Islamabad," it said.

Bankers to be cautious after Kochhar arrest

Arrest has once again put spotlight on collusion between bankers and corporates

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

AN easy calm has descended over the banking sector after the arrest of former ICICI Bank CEO Chanda Kochhar and her husband Deepak Kochhar last week and then Venugopal Dhoot, Chairman of Videocon Group this week.

Bankers say arrests will nudge private sector bank officials to take more conservative approach and will dent their risk-taking mindset while approving loans.

"Private bankers are known for their flexible approach and this has been one of the main factors behind the success of private banks in India. While public sector bankers follow a strict rule-book approach, private bankers use their discretion and take risks, along with sticking to the rules for approving loans. The arrest of these big names will hit the risk-taking mindset of bankers," a senior official of a private bank told this newspaper.

"Bankers in the private sector will prefer to stick to tick-box approach in approving loans. However, the officials who work ethically have nothing to fear. The role of senior management becomes crucial at this juncture. They should support their colleagues to take risks and ensure that they adhere to the rules," he added.

Chanda and Deepak Kochhar were arrested by Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Friday night while Venugopal Dhoot,71, was arrested in the loan fraud case on Monday morning. These high-profile arrests have once again put spotlight on collusion between bankers and corporates to get high value loans for personal gains. Explaining current situation, a private bank official said nobody is discussing this news publicly in meeting rooms or office pantry.

"It's a tricky situation at office as everyone wants to express his or her views about the arrests but nobody wants to be the first to initiate the discussion. You never know who will take it personal" a marketing official of a private bank told this newspaper.

"Although, it was the biggest news of the day, everybody shrugged it off. Publicly no one is saying anything but it is a hot topic in whispered conversations," he said. This is not the first time banking industry is hit by scandals. Vijay Mallya owned Kingfisher Airlines owes over ₹10,000 crore to several banks. The government is trying to bring Mallya, who fled India in 2016, back from the UK. Punjab National Bank was hit by ₹11,400 crore scam involving jewellers Nirav Modi, Mehul Choksi and others.

Banks' balance sheet sees double-digit growth

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

THE consolidated balance sheet of scheduled commercial banks (SCBs) has registered double digit growth in 2021-22, after a gap of seven years while gross non-performing assets (GNPA) have decline to reach 5%, revealed a report released by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Tuesday.

"From its peak in 2017-18, the GNPA ratio of SCBs has been declining sequentially to reach 5% at end-September 2022. This decrease was led by lower slippages as well as reduction in outstanding GNPAs through recoveries, upgradations and write-offs," noted the 'Trends and Progress of Banking in India' report for FY22.

According to the report, the GNPA has declined to 5.8%. In 2021-22, the reduction in NPAs was mainly contributed by written-off loans in the case of PSBs, while upgradation of loans was the primary driver for asset quality improvement for private banks. RBI asked banks to monitor slippages in restructured assets closely.

"Going forward, it is imperative that banks ensure due diligence and robust credit appraisal to limit credit risk. The uncertainties characterising fast-changing macroeconomic scenario amid formidable global headwinds during 2022-23 can pose new challenges to the banking sector. If downside risks materialise, asset quality could be affected," said the report.

Despite some recent moderation, public sector banks still have the lion's share in the consolidated balance sheet. At end-March 2022, they accounted for 62 percent of total outstanding deposits and 58% of total loans and advances extended by SCBs. Credit growth accelerated to a ten year high at end-September 2022, led by private banks. "Both working capital and term loans, which were decelerating since Q4:2018-19, showed steady growth during 2021-22. Nearly 75% of incremental credit during the year was in the form of term lending, which grew at a 10-quarter high pace," noted the report.

The reliance on large borrowers for loans seems to be going down with the increase in the retail business, and accounts of over ₹5 crore accounted for 47.8% of the outstanding credit in FY22 as against 48.4% in FY21.

However, such accounts' contribution to overall dud assets improved more substantially to 63.4% of the overall NPAs in FY22 as against 66.4% in FY21. An acceleration in income and contraction in expenditure boosted the profitability of SCBs in 2021-22, measured in terms of return on equity and return on assets, the RBI said.

Amid concerns over the high haircuts in bankruptcy resolutions, the RBI reiterated its pitch for the resolution value to be compared with the liquidation value of stressed assets.

India Inc wait and watch amid Covid surge, better prepared for WFH

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

AS the country is preparing to tackle the surge in Covid cases, considering the recent spike in cases in China and other few nations, start-ups and Indian enterprises are on wait-and-watch mode and most of them have already opted for the hybrid work model.

Though the country did not witness any spike in cases in recent times, staffing firms and start-ups say they are well-prepared to work-from-home (WFH) and the sudden shift would no longer be a concern.

Most organisations are already equipped to have employees WFH and almost all companies are working in hybrid-mode only, said Vijay Sivaram, CEO, Quess IT Staffing. Talking about the readiness, he added that start-ups are still flexible in remote working and they would not burn too much cost on large offices and will continue the present flexibility.

Start-ups such as Fello and Zolo said it is important to protect the health of employees. Nikhil Sikri, co-founder and CEO of Zolo, which employs 1,600 people, said, "A complete WFH scenario has been previously tried with mixed results and we will be working in a hybrid model to strike a balance." Game-based savings platform Fello, which was started during the pandemic period, said it worked from home for 14 months. "We eventually noticed that the team was done with the so-called Zoom fatigue and wanted to work together and we started working together in safe premises," said Manish Maryada, co-founder and CEO, Fello. If cases rise, the start-up might move to WFH again.

> Most organisations are already equipped to have employees work from home and almost all companies are working in hybrid-mode only

About 50% of the workforce is working remotely in services industry, manufacturing and automotive sectors. They have made shared services functions to work remotely and are using a combination of flexible working and workforce rotation principles to drive a productive work environment from anywhere, said Augustus Azariah, Chairman, HR & Women Leadership Expert Committee, BCIC. A majority of IT employees are continuing WFH for close to 2.9 years now. Many IT firms have said they will continue hybrid work and employees can work two days a week from offices. "The hard found balance between WFH, Hybrid and WFO is something that enterprises hold dear and something that they would hate to lose. While the government measures and lockdowns could come in the way of enterprises, a preference to keep that as the last resort is evident," said Kamal Karanth, co-founder of Xpheno.

THAILAND

TO KEEP BUDGET DEFICIT UNDER 3% OF GDP FOR 2024

Thailand's government is planning to keep its budget deficit to no more than 3% of gross domestic product in the 2024 fiscal year, the finance minister said on Tuesday, aiming for a deficit of 593 billion baht ($17.13 billion). Arkhom Termpittayapaisith also said the inflation target range of 1% to 3% was appropriate and monetary policy would ensure continued recovery of the economy. The inflation target will help maintain price stability and keep medium-term inflation expectations anchored, he said. Headline inflation was 5.55% in November, far above the Bank of Thailand's target range, but Arkhom said it would gradually fall back to within the target in 2023. The country's public debt was expected at 61.35% of GDP at the end of the 2024 fiscal year starting October,1, he said. The central bank recently it would continue to gradually raise its key interest rate for a while until the economy grew at its full potential and inflation returned to target. It has raised the benchmark rate by a total 75 bps since August to 1.25%, and economists expected a further rate hike next month.

VIETNAM

CENTRAL BANK BUYS DOLLARS TO SHORE UP RESERVES

Vietnam's central bank said on Tuesday it was making efforts to shore up foreign exchange reserves by buying up more U.S. dollars, after it was forced to sell a large amount of greenback earlier in the year to support its dong currency. "There have been positive signals on the foreign exchange market that allow the central bank to continue its purchases of foreign currencies," its deputy governor, Dao Minh Tu said. Vietnam does not provide regular disclosure on forex reserves. Late in 2021, it put the figure at $100 billion. The State Bank of Vietnam (SBV) earlier this year was forced to sell a large amount of US dollars to the market to support the dong, which has hit record lows in recent months. Strong FDI inflows and a large trade surplus this year helped slow the weakening of the dong. Tu also said the inflation rate should be below 4% in 2022, and that non-performing loans in the banking system were under control. Lending by Vietnamese banks rose 12.87% as of Dec. 21 from the end of last year, it said. The central bank early this month raised its 14% cap on credit growth for the banking system this year to 2%.

JAPAN

JOBLESS RATE FALLS TO 2.5% IN NOV

Japan's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate in November fell 0.1 percentage point from the previous month to 2.5%, the first improvement in three months, the internal affairs ministry said Tuesday. The ratio of the unemployed to labor force improved as new job seekers decreased amid a recovery in economic activities, pushing down the number of jobless people. The number of jobless people fell by 50,000, or 2.8%, to 1.73 million. Employed people numbered 67.13 million, down by 230,000, or 0.3%. Separately, the labor ministry said that the ratio of job openings to seekers in November stood at 1.35, unchanged from the previous month. Job seekers and openings both decreased, as workers refrained from changing jobs, while companies reduced recruiting following sluggish job applications. The employment situation is improving gradually despite weakness in some sectors and job seekers and openings sagged 1.5% and 1.3%, respectively. The job market improved in the accommodation and restaurant sectors following the launch of a nationwide travel discount program.

BSNL 4G services rollout may get delayed till March 2023

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE launch of 4G by state-owned telecom operator Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL) could stretch to March 2023, said a senior official of Department of Telecommunication (DoT).

Initially, the company will start deploying its 4G services in metro cities and then will spread to other parts of the country. "Not in a month or so but BSNL will definitely start its 4G services before the end of this fiscal year," said the official. The remark from the official comes at a time when telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw has been saying that BSNL is on track to launch 4G services in India by January 2023 and 5G by August 2023.

The DoT official further added that the telco is in process to install 1.12 lakh towers across the country. It means the telco is going to cover the entire country with its 4G network this year. However, the official also confirmed that there is no problem with equipment procurement; only a trial process is going on.

The telco has been trying to launch 4G for years, but it has been facing several roadblocks. Thankfully, the TCS-Tejas-CDOT consortium will now be developing the entire 4G network of BSNL indigenously. It means within the next few months, the company will be able to roll out 4G services.

This year, the government approved a ₹1.64 lakh crore revival package for the telecom operators.

"Once BSNL is ready with its 4G network, the telco company will start deploying its services in metro cities. MTNL (Mahanagar Telecom Nigam Limited) will not go for new connections, only maintain its old connections," said the official.

On the merger of BSNL and MTNL, the official said the merger is taking time because there are so many legal problems with it. One company is listed while the other is not; therefore the telco is exploring all options.

"We are hopeful it will be done soon," he added. The merger of BSNL and MTNL, approved by the Cabinet in October 2019.

Equity indices extend gain on positive global cues

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market closed with decent gain on Tuesday on the back of positive global cues and reports of China relaxing its pandemic-related restrictions further boosted sentiments.

After initial volatility, the BSE benchmark Sensex dipped to a low of 60,406, closed 361 points higher at 60,927. Sensex has now gained 1,082 points in the last two trading sessions. The broader NSE Nifty 50 index surged 117 points to settle at 18,132. "Recovery in the global indices, especially in the US, is offering the respite in absence of any major domestic trigger. The recent buoyancy in the banking pack combined with a recovery in the select index majors is encouraging," said Ajit Mishra, VP - technical research, Religare Broking.

He, however, added that Nifty has multiple hurdles to cross before resuming the uptrend. "We thus reiterate our view to focus on stock-specific opportunities and maintaining positions on both sides."

Most sectors participated in the gain on Tuesday wherein the metal outshined the others as it gained over 4%.

China accounts for 25% of auto components import

THE auto components imports in the Indian market grew 17.2% to $10.1 billion (₹79,815 crore) in the first half of FY23 from $8.7 billion (₹64,310 crore) in the first half of FY22, according to recent data shared by auto component body ACMA.

China accounts for more than one-fourth of these imports. Telecom equipment and mobile manufacturing companies have maintained that the current situation in China is not going to hamper India's telecom or mobile production. They are of the view that China implemented a zero-Covid policy, not lockdown.

China recently eased its zero-Covid policy and from January 08, inbound travellers will no longer need to go through quarantine norms.

People from the hotel and restaurant industry are also saying that there is no reason to panic. Pradeep Shetty, executive committee member, Federation of Hotel & Restaurant Associations of India, told TNIE: "The government is aware of the developments across the world and if there were a concern with an increase in the number of Covid cases, we are sure that it'll take the necessary measures. However, as of now, there are no booking cancellations and hotels are proceeding with optimism. But yes, we will be taking necessary precautions and may bring back the Covid safe practices," added Shetty. The hospitality industry, according to him, registered 125% growth this season compared to the pre-pandemic levels and is all set to ring in the Christmas and New Year festivities.

Housing sales peak at 3.65L units in 2022: Report

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

HOUSING sales in top 7 cities in witnessed a new peak in 2022, breaching the previous high of 2014. This comes despite a hike in property prices and home loan interest rates in 2022.

According to real estate consultancy firm Anarock, nearly 3,64,900 units were sold in 2022 as against 2,36,500 units in 2021 across top 7 cities, rising by 54% year-on-year (YoY).

Last time peak was seen in 2014 when 3.43 lakh units were sold across the top 7 cities.

In terms of cities, Mumbai Metropolitan Region (MMR) witnessed the highest sales of nearly 1,09,700 units in 2022, followed by National Capital Region (NCR) with nearly 63,700 units. Anuj Puri, Chairman - ANAROCK Group, says, "While it was widely anticipated the rise in property costs and interest rates towards the second half of 2022 would have a cascading impact on the residential sales, Q4, 2022, remained quite robust with as many as 92,160 units sold in the period." Puri anticipates the current sales momentum in the housing sector to continue in the first quarter of 2023. "The appetite for homeownership has remained undeterred, with maximum sales being driven by end-users. However, various risks loom large around the residential segment. A lot will depend on how the home loan interest rates pan out over the next year," he said. Pune recorded sales of nearly 57,200 units in 2022 (up 59%), Bengaluru 49,500 units (up 50%), Hyderabad 47,500 units (up 87%), Kolkata 21,200 units (up 62%) and Chennai 16,100 (up 29%). Meanwhile, new launches across top 7 cities saw 51% annual rise – from 2,36,700 units in 2021 to nearly 3,57,600 new units in 2022. MMR and Hyderabad saw maximum new launches in 2022, comprising nearly 54% of the total new launches in the year.

Working conditions for gig workers worst in Ola, Uber, Dunzo, says report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

GIG workers in India still do not have proper working conditions, fair pay and proper representation.

According to the Fairwork India Ratings 2022: Labour Standards in the Platform Economy report, Uber, PharmEasy, Ola, Dunzo and Amazon Flex have the worst working conditions as they scored zero across various parameters. The report says the same three platforms that scored the first point for Fair Pay last year scored a point this year too and no other platform publicly committed, or provided sufficient evidence, to ensure that workers earn at least the hourly local minimum wage after work-related costs.

Also, while workers have engaged in various forms of collective action to voice their concerns in the platform economy, platforms have been uncompromisingly unwilling to recognise or negotiate with any collective body representing workers, the report added. Fairwork assessed platforms against five principles - Fair Pay, Fair Conditions, Fair Contracts, Fair Management and Fair Representation. This year, no platform scored more than seven out of the maximum of 10 points, and none scored all the first points across the five principles.

While Urban Company scored seven points and topped the ranking, it was followed by BigBasket with 6 points and Flipkart (5 points) and Swiggy (5 points). Zomato scored 4 points and Zepto 2 points.

The report, which examines the work conditions of platform workers on digital labour platforms in India, evaluates 12 platforms offering location-based services in sectors such as domestic and personal care, logistics, food delivery, e-pharmacy and transportation.

"The promise of flexibility of the digital platform economy raises as many questions about livelihoods as it offers opportunities," said Professors Balaji Parthasarathy and Janaki Srinivasan, the Principal Investigators of the team.

Liverpool agree deal for Dutch star Gakpo

Liverpool appear to have won the race to sign Dutch international forward Cody Gakpo after PSV Eindhoven announced an agreement with the English giants on Monday. Gakpo scored three goals at the World Cup for the Netherlands. "PSV and Liverpool FC have reached an agreement on the proposed transfer of Cody Gakpo," PSV said in a statement.

Wales launches crowdfunding campaign

Men's hockey team from the nation has qualified for the World Cup for the first time, placed in same group as hosts

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

WALES, one of the three countries slated to face India in the group phase at the men's hockey World Cup next year, have launched a gofundme campaign to take the team to India. The fundraiser, organised by Ria Burrage-Male, aims to raise £25,000 towards flight costs (they have so far raised £1,610).

The campaign page, whose link was shared on the official Twitter handle (@Hockey-Wales) on Thursday, said: "For the first time in history, Hockey Wales Men have qualified for the FIH World Cup, after an exciting qualifier held in Cardiff (the European leg of the World Cup qualifier was held from October 21-24."

"The Men head to India in January 2023 to take on the BEST in the WORLD in front of a global audience of 2 billion followers. Both our men and women contribute financially to play for Wales, your help will ensure they do not pay to play on one of the biggest sporting stages. Thank you for your interest, contribution and for becoming part of our journey."

It's not unheard of for national teams in the sport to crowdfund their way to a major event. The South African team did something similar to play at the Olympics last year while the Canada programme depended for a long time on students contributing a sum of money towards expenses.

For Wales, though, the interesting thing is they are part of Great Britain at the Olympics but play separately during the World Cup, continental championships and so on. Curiously enough, Wales will face one of the other countries that comprise Great Britain, England, at the World Cup. In fact, that match on January 13 in Rourkela will be their first-ever at a World Cup before they face Spain two days later. They complete their group-stage obligations against India in Bhubaneswar on January 19.

A screen grab of the Gofundme page started by the Wales hockey team.

India hockey team reaches Odisha

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhubaneswar

EXCITEMENT was palpable as India men's hockey team reached Odisha on Tuesday, well ahead of the FIH World Cup next year. The team, led by captain Harmanpreet Singh, reached Biju Patnaik International Airport, where they were given a rousing welcome by fans outside the airport. The team along with coach Graham Reid left for Rourkela from another domestic airport.

India will undergo the final leg of their preparation in Rourkela before playing their first match against Spain on January 13. The first match will be played in Bhubaneswar on the same day.

Harmanpreet sounded positive about India's performance at the event and said "we are excited for the World Cup. We spent some quality time in Bangalore before the team was finalised."

He also said that "the World Cup is the most important tournament and being the host nation it is of great importance to us". "We are going to start our campaign at a new stadium in Rourkela. We are having more than two weeks' time. We will start our practice there and that will help us to understand the conditions better," said Harmanpreet before leaving Bhubaneswar.

According to a Hockey India statement, the team reached Rourkela in the evening and chief coach Graham Reid felt at home in Odisha. "Odisha is like our second home and we are very happy to be back here. We are looking forward to the next two weeks here in Rourkela and will be going through final touches to our game. We are well-prepared for the challenge and expect the pitch conditions to be similar to that of Bhubaneswar."

The Indian Men's Hockey Team, are placed in Pool D, along with Spain, England, and Wales.

"We haven't played in Rourkela yet but I think it is a wonderful opportunity for the team to be playing in front of such passionate hockey fans in this region. We are all looking forward to our first match here," Reid said.

SRI LANKA SERIES

HARDIK TO LEAD IN T20Is, BIG BOYS BACK FOR ONE-DAY TIES

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

PREMIER all-rounder Hardik Pandya was on Tuesday named as India's T20I captain for the upcoming three-match series against Sri Lanka with Rohit Sharma retaining the ODI leadership role in what seems to be a start of transition in Indian cricket. Virat Kohli and KL Rahul are also not part of the shortest format and there is an indication that the duo along with Rohit might not be picked again keeping 2024 T20 World Cup in mind.

Pandya's elevation is a significant one as he has also been appointed as Rohit's deputy for the Sri Lanka ODIs while Suryakumar Yadav, for his mindblowing one year, is now the new vice-captain in T20Is.

Pandya, who led Gujarat Titans to IPL triumph during the last edition was touted as Rohit's replacement after India lost to England in the semi-finals of the T20 World Cup playing archaic cricket. While Rohit is still recovering from thumb dislocation, the BCCI press release doesn't state if it is a permanent change or just for one series. The T20I team has a fresh look with two uncapped pacers Shivam Mavi and Mukesh Kumar being inducted into the shortest format.

Mavi was picked by Titans for Rs 6 crore, while Bengal's Mukesh was snapped by Delhi Capitals for Rs 5.50 crore.

Ruturaj Gaikwad and Rahul Tripathi, two powerhouse IPL performers, made it to the T20 side. The ODI side boasts a more experienced look with Mohammed Shami coming back from shoulder injury. A big omission but on the expected lines is Shikhar Dhawan from the ODI team.

SQUADS : T20I: Hardik Pandya (Captain), Ishan Kishan (wk), Ruturaj Gaikwad, Shubman Gill, Suryakumar Yadav (VC), Deepak Hooda, Rahul Tripathi, Sanju Samson, Washington Sundar, Yuzvendra Chahal, Axar Patel, Arshdeep Singh, Harshal Patel, Umran Malik, Shivam Mavi, Mukesh Kumar.

ODI: Rohit Sharma (Captain), Shubman Gill, Virat Kohli, Suryakumar Yadav, Shreyas Iyer, KL Rahul (wk), Ishan Kishan (wk), Hardik Pandya (VC), Washington Sundar, Yuzvendra Chahal, Kuldeep Yadav, Axar Patel, Mohd. Shami, Mohd. Siraj, Umran Malik, Arshdeep Singh.

Samarth century puts Karnataka in command

ENS/AGENCIES @ Chennai

Karnataka's R Samarth

OPENER R Samarth's fine knock of 140 powered Karnataka to 294/3 against Goa in their Ranji Trophy Group C match on Tuesday.

Skipper Mayank Agarwal won the toss, opted to bat and provided a strong start for the team by adding 116 runs with Samarth. Agarwal appeared set for a big score before he fell LBW to Lakshay Garg for 50. Samarth and Vishal Onat built on it, with the former cruising towards his century. Once Samarth got out, S J Nikin Jose fell to left-arm spinner Darshan Misal (1 for 73) in the 86th over. Onat and the experienced Manish Pandey (8 batting) ensured that no further wickets fell before stumps.

Meanwhile in the other Group C match at Thumba, Kerala ended the day at 100/2 after having dismissed Chhattisgarh for 149 in under 50 overs. All-rounder Jalaj Saxena was the pick of the bowlers, taking five wickets. The off-spinners finished with 5/48 putting Kerala on command. As Kerala went about their business, Rohan Prem, who was batting on 29, went past 5000 first-class runs.

In Delhi, Tamil Nadu pacers stepped up in cold conditions to keep the home team at 212/6 on Day one in the group B clash. L Vignesh and Sandeep Warrier took three wickets each for the southern team as the pace trio ensured the game did not slip away from them. Early on, Vignesh struck twice to remove Anuj Rawat and Yash Dhull.

Dhruv Shorey (66) and Jonty Sindhu (57) revived the Delhi innings. They punished the loose deliveries but to be fair to Tamil Nadu pacers, they maintained discipline for sustained periods. Warrier was particularly good with the old ball as he dismissed Sidhu with a well directed bouncer which the southpaw fended with his bat over his head and N Jagadeesan took a simple catch.

Once Shorey got out, Lalit Yadav (33 batting) and Himmat Singh (25) added 43 runs for the sixth wicket before Warrier set up the latter with a couple of outswingers followed by a sharp inswinger to shatter the stumps. Delhi were 212/6 when the play was stopped due to bad light after 76 overs. Meanwhile, Mumbai saw another fast-paced match as Saurashtra made 289 runs in 79.1 overs with Arpit Vasavada (75) top-scoring for them. In the last hour of the day, they reduced Mumbai to 36/2 in eight overs, with experienced campaigners Suryakumar Yadav and Ajinkya Rahane batting in the middle.

In Hyderabad, Assam were bundled out for 205, with Ravi Teja taking four wickets on Day one of the group B clash. He was well supported by Kartikeya Kak who finished with 3/43. In reply, Hyderabad lost three wickets, finishing the day on 78/3 in 27 overs. Meanwhile in the other Group B match, Andhra dismissed Maharashtra for 200 in 57.3 overs, largely thanks to the five-wicket haul from Nitish Kumar Reddy. Although they lost two early wickets, skipper Hanuma Vihari was still batting in the middle as Andhra were 58/2 at stumps.

Warner retired hurt after double ton in 100th Test

AFP @Melbourne

DAVID WARNER battled through searing heat to hit an epic unbeaten 200 in his 100th Test on Tuesday before retiring in pain as Australia consolidated their advantage against South Africa at the Melbourne Cricket Ground. On a scorching day, the hosts were 386-3 at stumps on day two of the second Test, leading by 197 after the Proteas were dismissed in their first innings for 189. Travis Head was not out 48 with Alex Carey on nine.

Steve Smith (85) and Marnus Labuschagne (14) were the only wickets to fall. But worryingly for Australia, Cameron Green, who took 5-27 in South Africa's first innings, also retired hurt after a nasty rap on the finger from Anrich Nortje.

Smith and Warner's 239-run partnership took the game further away from South Africa, whose bowlers toiled in temperatures touching 37 degrees Celsius (98.6 Fahrenheit).

Opener Warner, 36, snapped a near-three-year century drought in typically aggressive and gritty fashion, reaching three figures for a 25th time after coming into the game under pressure on a lean run. It was his first Test hundred since January 2020 and as the opposition bowlers tired, he battled the elements and converted it to 200 for only the third time. But it was an exhausting effort, as he passed 8,000 Test runs en route.

Chairs had to be brought out for Warner and Smith to rest on in the drinks breaks, with towels draped over their heads and ice-packs on their shoulders. Brief scores: South Africa 189 vs Australia 386/3 in 91 ovs (Warner 200 retd hurt, Smith 85, Head 48 batting).

Blackcaps foil Pakistan after Salman's debut hundred

KARACHI: New Zealand openers Devon Conway and Tom Latham blunted Pakistan bowlers to guide their side to a solid 165 without loss at close on the second day of the first Test in Karachi on Tuesday. Conway became the fastest New Zealand batter to complete 1,000 runs in his 11th Test when he reached 82 at close and was ably supported by Latham who was unbeaten on 78.

Brief scores: Pakistan 438 in 130.5 ovs (Babar 161, Salman 103; Southee 3/69, Patel 2/112) vs New Zealand 165 for no loss in 47 ovs (Conway 82 batting, Latham 78 batting)

The tourists are now 273 runs behind Pakistan's first innings total of 438 which was spiced up by a brilliant maiden hundred from middle-order batter Agha Salman. "I feel proud because it's great to score a hundred for your country," said the 29-year-old. "I can't describe the feeling in words and am happy that I took responsibility after our skipper fell early."

Salman anchored the innings after skipper Babar Azam fell in the first over of the day without adding to his overnight score of 161. Azam struck 16 boundaries and a six in his 365-minute knock.

Conway, the South African-born left-hander who migrated to New Zealand to boost his career, was lucky to survive a caught behind dismissal on 57 off spinner Nauman Ali. Pakistan did not challenge umpire Aleem Dar's not out decision but TV replays showed the batter had edged the ball. Before Conway, John Reid had reached 1,000 career runs in 12 Tests in 1985. Conway has so far struck 12 boundaries while Latham has eight hits to the rope.

Arsenal open up seven-point gap

AFP @London

ARSENAL opened up a seven-point lead with a 3-1 win over West Ham as the Premier League returned on Monday, while Newcastle climbed up to second thanks to an impressive 3-0 victory at Leicester. Liverpool also made a winning return from the World Cup break by beating Aston Villa 3-1.

Arsenal's momentum towards a first league title since 2004 could have been disturbed by the six-week mid-season break. But Mikel Arteta's men passed another test of their resolve after going in 1-0 behind at half-time to Said Benrahma's penalty. Two goals in five minutes from Bukayo Saka and Gabriel Martinelli turned the game on its head before Eddie Nketiah stepped up in the absence of the injured Gabriel Jesus to seal the points.

"I'm delighted with the result and performance," said Arteta. "We scored at the perfect time and the crowd was incredible, also in the moment we conceded the goal. They kept on believing. When we scored it got loud and we generated the momentum we needed."

Mohamed Salah (R) scored his 15th goal of the season on Monday | AFP

Liverpool closed to within five points of Spurs and with a game in hand to come by inflicting Unai Emery's first league defeat as Villa boss. Mohamed Salah swept home his 15th goal of the season in a frantic opening with chances aplenty at both ends. The Egyptian then teed up Virgil van Dijk to give Liverpool breathing space before half-time.

ASIAN MIXED C'SHIPS

Saina named for selection trials

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

SAINA Nehwal has been named for next month's selection trials of Asian Mixed Team Championships, to be held in Dubai from February 14 to 19.

The senior selection committee had a virtual meeting on December 25 to finalise the trials for picking the team for the Asian event.

Based on their superior world rankings, the committee decided to give direct entry to singles players Lakshya Sen, HS Prannoy, PV Sindhu and men's doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty.

The rest of the 14-member team will be picked in the selection trials, scheduled to be held in Delhi on January 2 and 3. "The members unanimously agreed that since it is a big competition with limited number of entries, only BWF rankings from 16-50 should be considered for inviting players for the trials for the rest of the available spots," the BAI said.

GREEN THEORY

The city hosted multiple climate change events. During COP27, the Museum for United Nations - UN Live, in collaboration with Science Gallery Bengaluru, unveiled a portal at the JN Planetarium to conduct climate discussions with activists from world-over. Various events like the Green Literature Festival, the Wildscreen Panda Awards and the Echoes of Earth Music Festival took place in the city as well. "Earlier, much of the green attention used to be in cities like Delhi. There has been a shift towards Bengaluru lately because the city became a hotspot for climate conversations. This year the city was affected by floods and other environmental concerns. Bengaluru also has a lot of young climate leaders in the national climate movement" says climate activist Akhilesh Anilkumar, director of Bring Back Green Foundation.

IN RETROSPECT

As the year comes to a close, CE looks at some of the major events that held the city's attention in 2022

TUNIR BISWAS

LIKE every year, it is painful to imagine that 2022 will soon be a thing of the past. But this year was an eventful one with various developments making headlines. And it's time to look back and see what made this year write itself in the history pages.

The web-based word game started by Welsh software engineer Josh Wardle became a global internet phenomenon, following which the New York Times purchased the game. It was moved to their website in February and was free. Aakriti Sehra, who still plays the game, says, "I found out about Wordle from my roommate, and was soon hooked. My friends started competing on who gets the word first. I continue playing it because it is a great game to kickstart your brain, especially in the morning."

DYING MELODIES

This year bears the cross for witnessing the deaths of famed singers Lata Mangeshkar and KK. The influential singers had lent their voices to songs in various languages, including Kannada. "Both of them were at different stages of their lives. Mangeshkar's song Bellane Belagayithu is still remembered. Everyone has grown up listening to her. KK's demise was unfortunate. He was a brilliant singer and it is a terrible loss to the music community," says singer MD Pallavi.

HIJAB ROW

In February, a group of students was denied their right to wear the hijab in their college premises. This gave birth to an incendiary debate on freedom of religious expression as students from other religions weren't asked to remove their religious attire on educational premises. The matter was taken to the High Court which upheld the ban saying it wasn't an essential religious practice in Islam. This was criticised globally, with activists like Malala Yousafzai and Taslima Nasrin, condemning the ban and coming in support of the ban calling the hijab a symbol of oppression respectively. Meanwhile, artists in Bengaluru also voiced their opinion. City's Shilo Shiv Suleman started the Haq campaign with her participative storytelling movement - The Fearless Collective. "Over the last couple of years, we have been focused on Muslim women's voices in India. I wish I could say the Hijab Row was a singular incident, but it is not. With our campaign, we brought together artists from across the world and put them in partnership with Muslim women who were 'auctioned on the Bulli Bai app', for example, and made beautiful, affirmative representations of their bodies to represent their faith and sense of belonging," says Suleman.

Artwork by Reya Ahmed, which was the last poster of the Haq campaign.

BENGALURU IN OTT

When the TV series Rocket Boys dropped on Sony Liv on February 4, it quickly became the talk of the town as it involved Homi J Bhabha's and Vikram Sarabhai's time in Bengaluru. However, the show received criticism for leaning towards fiction than fact in its retelling of history and the scientific community chastised the show makers for this. In an earlier CE story, Jahnavi Phalker, science historian had said, "The show could have been true to history, and could have recognised the great work that was done by the eminent scientists of those times. They didn't have to glorify anyone or anything."

UNDER THE MOONLIGHT

News spread like wildfire in the IT world after the Wipro chief, Rishad Premji, fired 300 employees for moonlighting in the second half of the year. Moonlighting means working a second job. Discussions on moonlighting's acceptibility soon started dominating coffee table conversations. Sandeep Das, IT expert, says, "When you sign up for a job, you sign a promise. As long as it doesn't affect your main job, and your line manager is in the loop, there is no problem. It starts when people start moonlighting in grey areas," says Das. Innovation evangelist Pavan Soni believes the act of moonlighting caught up late because people were working from home. "The vigilance that is done in an office had gone down. The intent of the employees is not to jeopardise the company's interest, it is to earn a few extra bucks or utilise their skills in other domains to raise their market value. Many of them moonlight as programmers or developers at startups, who otherwise won't be able to hire them at their full salary. From an economic perspective, this is good. But from a firm's perspective, they feel short-changed," says Soni.

A still from the Squeaky Clean music video

Hyderabad-based singer Pranati Khanna, aka Peekay, who was in the city for a show, speaks about her latest single, which has a whiff of nostalgia

SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW

MONIKA MONALISA

IT'S all about simpler times in your life that gives you courage to start afresh. Hyderabad singer-songwriter Pranati Khanna, aka Peekay, in her latest song Squeaky Clean looks back at her childhood days which turn out to be the biggest inspiration for a fresh start for her.

Speaking to CE, Khanna says many of us in our adult life wish we could turn the clock back to start things all over again. And the song captures this essence. "Squeaky Clean basically means a clean slate. The lyrics and feel of the video is about a phase when I was confused about everything. There were certain traumas that I was overwhelmed with and I just wanted to clear things in my life. I did that and started a new chapter with a blank page," explains Khanna.

Her last song, Sunshine on the Street, which was a collaboration with Shillong artiste and actor-model Andrea Tariang, was released in February.

"Usually, I try pop or pop-rock. This has a more mellow, RnB, pop-jazz kind of vibe," says Khanna, who also runs a marketing agency.

Produced by Jonathan Edward and directed by Prerna Kolluri, the song has a bright video that complements the mood.

"The video's concept is about childhood. So I went to the backyard of my parents' house. The doll house is my mother's, which was an integral part of my growing years," says Khanna, adding, "The idea is to say that you can cope with difficult situations by going back in time. It's all about capturing that energy."

Khanna, whose reggae-inspired vocal style gives a distinctive touch to the song, has been a huge admirer of Indie and international artistes. "I love the works of Sanjeetha Bhattacharya and Alicia Keys. They are my influences," says Khanna, who was in Bengaluru recently to perform at the Echoes of Earth Music Festival.

FIT BIT

BEGINNER VRKSASANA
(BEGINNER TREE POSE)

This simple sanding pose strengthens the legs, knees and ankles and tones the glutes. Practising with the hands in prayer position, rather than overhead, can help students focus on balance. It helps kids in their physical and mental development.

STEPS

- Start in Tadasana (Mountain Pose) with feet together on the mat.
- Be aware of all four corners of the feet when grounding them.
- Now, pay your attention to the right leg.
- Externally rotate your right leg, bend the knee and place the soul of the right foot on the side of the left leg shin (below the knees).
- When you feel stable in this pose, bring the hands to Anjali Mudra at the chest.
- Focus on a point in front of you for five deep breaths.
- To come out of the pose, release the right leg and then the hands.
- Repeat the practice on the other side, placing the left foot on the side of the right shin (below the knees). Join the hands in Anjali mudra. Hold the asana for five deep breaths.
- To come out, release the leg and hands.
- Relax here connecting to your breath in Three

BENEFITS

- Helps to maintain patience and stability.
- Strengthens muscles of the balancing leg and makes them flexible.
- With the weight of the body on one leg, the calves become strong.
- Helps in flexing the hips, thereby opening them on both sides equally with practise.
- A fun and safe pose for senior citizens and kids. A therapeutic pose for the injured.
- Helps in healing from injury to the hips, knees or ankles.
- Can be included in therapy sessions where people have a migraine, unstable BP, or for pregnant women, trauma survivors, etc.
- Gently introduces the practitioner to use core muscles to balance with one leg open to the side.
- Helps to prepare the body-mind-breath sync.
- Brings awareness to the breath, slowly helps practitioners to center their thoughts.

LIMITATIONS

Though it is an easy pose, take proper care. Take support of a wall or chair for balance.

People with injuries to their ankles or knees should avoid this. If you have ligament pressure at the ankles or knees or arthritis, or blood pressure, avoid this.

FLYLEAF
VR FEROSE

(The author is a technologist based in Silicon Valley who is gently mad about books)

BOOKS AS GIFTS

AS we enter the holiday season, I would consider books as being the best gifts. As my friend and owner of Kepler's Bookstore in Menlo-Park (California), Praveen Madan told me, "In the book selling business, there are only two seasons – December and the rest." Book sales peak in December because many people buy books as Christmas and New Year gifts. In Iceland, there is a national tradition called Jolabokaflod, or the 'Christmas Book Flood'. It involves giving and unwrapping new books on Christmas Eve, cuddling with loved ones, and reading late into the night. As Neil Gaiman said, "Books make great gifts because they have whole worlds inside of them. And it's much cheaper to buy somebody a book than it is to buy them the whole world."

With a few exceptions, books are the only gifts I have given. To my wife's dismay, even our wedding gifts have been books! Family and friends who are aware of my book reading/buying habits have often gifted me some unique and special books. I spent almost a decade collecting the 50 best books on cricket, a list suggested by Ramachandra Guha in his article 'An Addict's Archive'. Many on the list were rare and out of print. I waited for them to pop up in local bookstores and after chasing them relentlessly, I managed to get 49 of the 50 books. One day, a colleague of mine walked into my office with a gift-wrapped book. When I opened it I found the 50th book (The Great Australian Book of Cricket Stories by Ken Piesse) that completed my collection!

On another occasion, my friend Nisha gifted me a rare copy of Isaac Walterson's special edition of Einstein: The Life of a Genius. While it was neither signed nor inscribed, it was a collectors copy. When I met Walterson at a book event I got it signed too!

One of my most cherished moments was receiving a book gift from a complete stranger. While browsing at Oxford Bookstore in Bengaluru a few years ago, a youngish guy surprised me by gifting me a book titled Seven Secrets of Inspired Leaders. He said he had heard my speech at the School of Inspired Leadership (SOIL, Gurgaon) where he'd studied, and wanted to gift me the book in gratitude. That book still holds a special place for me.

Often, it is the carefully thought-out, inscribed message that makes a book more memorable. After I recently spoke at the Autism After 21 event in Washington DC, the author of Autism Uncensored, Whitney Ellenby, gave me a copy of her book in which she wrote: "You just broke my heart and healed it again...I hope you will listen to my uncensored voice because you walk in the middle of the story." Whitney, a champion for the autism community, has now become a dear friend.

However, the book gift that touched me the most was when my fellow bibliophile friend Pradeep Sebastian gave his most precious gift to me – a copy of Keepers signed by Russell H Greenan. The book Silence of the Lambs apparently has echoes of Greenan's book. Signed on March 6, 2006, the inscribed message read "I flatter myself by thinking that, if I had not written this story, Mr Harris would not have written Silence of the Lambs. Perhaps, you too will see a similarity". Pradeep and Russell had developed a friendship and he had gifted the book to him. I someday hope to be able to pay Pradeep back with something equally rare and personal.

Books are intimate possessions, each with a unique story that lives on in us. When someone asked me why I don't read on a Kindle, my response was "How do you get a personalised copy on a Kindle?"

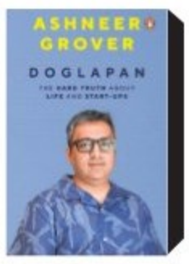
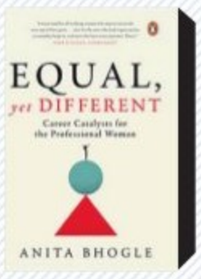
Captivating, delightful, thought-provoking. These are some of the words used to describe the most talked about books that came out this year. As 2022 nears its end, CE looks at titles that stood out the most

DOGLAPAN: THE HARD TRUTH ABOUT LIFE AND START-UPS, ASHNEER GROVER (PENGUIN INDIA; ₹305)



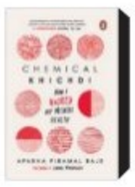
The memoir of the controversial entrepreneur and former Shark Tank India investor Ashneer Grover was among Penguin India's last releases for 2022. As the founder of one of the first startups to reach Unicorn status, Grover chronicles his life and provides a sneak-peak into the ever-expanding world of startups through the book, while occasionally dropping truth bombs in his signature style.

EQUAL, YET DIFFERENT: CAREER CATALYSTS FOR THE PROFESSIONAL WOMAN HARDCOVER, ANITA BHOGLE (PENGUIN INDIA; ₹270)



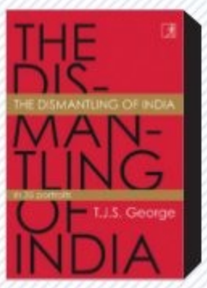
Despite an ever-growing number of women now taking up career paths that were previously male-exclusive, they continue to face workspace discrimination, undercompensation and being passed over for leadership positions. In her book, Anita Bhogle identifies the catalysts that can help career-driven women realise their full potential. Based on in-depth conversations with experts, career women and more, the book maps out ways in which working women could overcome workspace obstacles to achieve true emancipation.

CHEMICAL KHICHDI: HOW I HACKED MY MENTAL HEALTH, APARNA PIRAMAL RAJE (PENGUIN INDIA; ₹278)



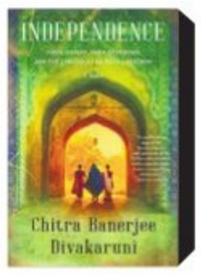
The pandemic led to a resurgence in conversations surrounding mental health and the misconceptions surrounding it, as people looked for ways to cope under isolation and lack of social contact. Aparna Piramal Raje's 2022 release is a mix of mental health memoir and self-help book. A candid account of her own mental issues, Raje delves into the way in which family and friends could become genuine allies to a person suffering with mental health issues.

THE DISMANTLING OF INDIA IN 35 PORTRAITS, TJS GEORGE (SIMON & SCHUSTER INDIA; ₹692)



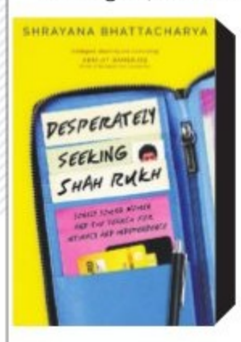
TJS George attempts to tell the story of India through brief portraits of 35 notable personalities from a wide range of fields, who had varying levels of influence in shaping India. Having been a journalist since well before India gained Independence, George is uniquely qualified to tell this story, which offers rare insights and anecdotes about personalities such as Subhash Chandra Bose, VD Savarkar, JRD Tata and Veerappan among others.

INDEPENDENCE, CHITRA BANERJEE DIVAKARUNI (HARPERCOLLINS INDIA; ₹408)

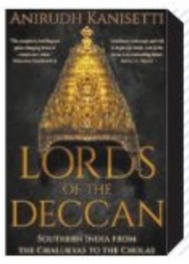


The story of India's independence, told through the eyes of three sisters, each with their own flaws and desires, but bound together through a fierce sense of loyalty. An equally inspiring and devastating tale about one of the most pivotal periods in the country's history, the book takes the readers through many twists and turns while always keeping the characters grounded.

DESPERATELY SEEKING SHAH RUKH, SHRAYANA BHATTACHARYA (HARPERCOLLINS INDIA; ₹453)



A path-breaking story on the female gaze, the book explores how India's women experienced the post-1991 economic liberalisation. The book follows a diverse group of women from various backgrounds, who unite under their shared love for actor Shah Rukh Khan - representing a friendlier face of masculinity amid an oppressive culture and their search for intimacy, freedom and fun.



LORDS OF THE DECCAN, ANIRUDH KANISETTI (JUGGERNAUT; ₹899)

A first-time author and history buff, Kanisetti delves deep into the lesser-known history of Southern India. Spanning across the rule of Eastern Chalukyas, the Rashtrakutas and until the Cholas, the book is written in such a way as to capture the readers' imagination and transport them back a 1,000 years in time. This gripping account narrates the role various southern dynasties played in the country's history, and provides fresh perspective into the lives of oft-forgotten figures from the time period.

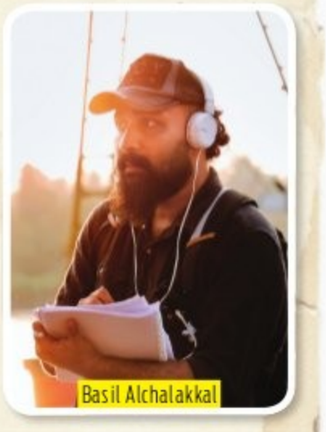
Raj B Shetty to headline a revenge drama

A cryptic message put up recently by the Ondu Motteya Kathe actor on social media gives a hint about the subject like that is penned by Raj himself

A SHARADHAA



Basil Alchalakkal

Raj B Shetty, who is currently in the post-production of his third directorial, Swati Muthina Male Haniye (starring himself and Siri Ravikumar), is simultaneously gearing up for his next project.

Interestingly, his recent social media post, which had a cryptic caption that read, 'When you hurt an artist, poem comes,' was apparently a hint about his next film. According to our sources, Raj's next, which is penned by him, will be directed by his erstwhile associate Basil Alchalakkal.

This project is expected to be a revenge drama. Basil, who has been associated with Raj B Shetty since Ondu Motteya Kathe, is set to make his directorial debut with this project, which will have music by Midhun Mukundan and cinematography by Praveen Shriyan.

Meanwhile, Raj B Shetty will be making his Malayalam debut with Rudhiram, co-starring Aparna Balamurali, and directed by debutant Jisho Lon Antony.

Rakshit Shetty

'I'm already in love with Richard Anthony's script'

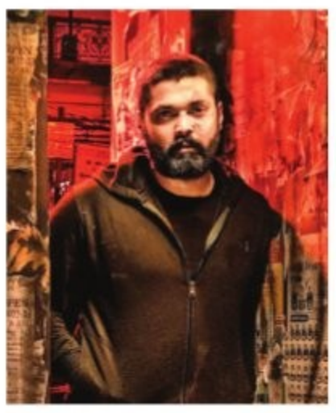
...says Rakshit Shetty, as he shares his writing process, his upcoming film Sapta Sagaradaache Yello and more

CE FEATURES



RAKSHIT Shetty is currently shooting for director Hemanth M Rao's Sapta Sagaradaache Yello. The romantic drama stars Rukmini Vasant and Chaitra J Achar as the female leads. Sharing about the project's current status, Rakshit says, "We are halfway through the shoot of the film's second half. The climax portions are currently being shot. After that, we have another 15 days of shooting left, which we plan to complete in a month or two."

Rakshit has put on a few kilos for the film as his character demanded it. Despite the challenges that come with the physical transformation, the actor feels that it's the character's internal conflicts that are having a bigger toll on him. "The protagonist Manu endures a lot of pain and I feel I'm subconsciously carrying a lot of that with me. I can see that it's affecting me."

Rakshit is currently on a spiritual journey and he believes it's helping him - both as a writer and an actor. "While it certainly helps my acting, it also rejuvenates me as a wirter. It pulls me into a world of fantasy."

After wrapping up Sapta Sagaradaache..., Rakshit is planning to start shooting for Richard Anthony, the spin-off of his much-acclaimed directorial debut, Ulidavaru Kandanthe. Vijay Kiragandur's Hombale Films is backing the project. Rakshit sounds confident as he reveals more on the film and its writing process, "The film is quite deep but not as complicated as the writing process. I'm already in love with the script, but I'm still fine-tuning it with multiple drafts. I think I might fall in love with Richie once I start playing the role," signs off Rakshit.

Cinema Without Borders: Killing Softly

NAMRATA JOSHI

WE often casually talk about the 70s as the new 60s and 60s as the new 50s in a jubilant acknowledgement of healthy years of seniority and greater life expectancy. However, "koureikashakai" or the ageing society, along with a low birth rate, has turned Japan into a nation with the oldest population in the world, creating societal and economic impasse of uncommon kinds.

Filmmaker Chie Hayakawa deploys this reality to envision a nightmarish Japan of the near future in her debut feature film Plan 75, a country in which the old would have to quit the scene entirely to make much-needed room for the young. With jobs, resources, and infrastructure running scarce and employment and the economy hitting rock bottom, the resentment against the aged is growing in the Japan of Hayakawa's imagination. To correct the imbalance, the government introduces Plan 75, a policy where senior citizens are encouraged to opt for euthanasia in return for benefits like a sum of 100,000 yen for some self-indulgence before eternal rest.

What strikes initially about the film is the bizarreness of the scheme, heightened further by the impassive and robotic way it is peddled to the end users. But Hayakawa expertly lets the eeriness and chilling practicality of the arrangement make way for a more complex human exploration by turning the viewers into intimate witnesses of the lives of three individuals.

The characters and their relationships and predicaments force one to pause, reflect and ruminate on the human condition. There is Hiromu (Hayato Isomura), the cheerful young marketer of Plan 75, who gets conflicted when he finds his own estranged uncle opting for it. There's the ageing single woman Michi (Chieko Baisho), rendered obsolete at work, her home up for demolition, finding it hard to get a new job, losing friends and finding her social circle shrinking. It makes her wonder if the plan would be better than the interminable struggles of life. Phone calls with her young Plan 75 assistant Yakao (Yuumi Kawai), who she is forbidden to meet, gets emotionally attached and reconsiders the decision to make way for a surreptitious rendezvous and something as mundane as a win at a bowling alley. And it makes her start seeing life in a new light.

Then there's a caregiver Maria (Stefanie Arianne), who opts to work with the Plan 75 team for more money so she can better support the treatment of her sick daughter at home in the Philippines. Survival of one is rooted in the sacrifice of another.

The initial cynicism permeating the film gets turned on its head as it becomes a gentle, empathetic document. Hayakawa directs with restraint. Much has been written and spoken about the dark side of Japanese society and culture. The film might have emerged from that specific bleak space, but it addresses universal urban loneliness and disconnect. "Even when we have kids, it's lonely... We are all alone in life," says a childless Michi. Ironically, the group plan in Plan 75 involves cremating the policyholders together—community in death if not in life—to which a customer responds that once dead, it makes no difference whether you are with someone or not.

The biggest takeaway is Chieko Baisho's stoic dignity and serene, pensive face that hides the many raging storms within her. Her battles with her own disposability took me back to an Indian film—Ivan Ayr's Meel Patthar (Milestone). Though on a vastly different subject, it looked at the fear of redundancy with a similar poignant lens through a senior truck driver looking at his young apprentice with the fear of a takeover.

Plan 75 premiered in the Un Certain Regard section of the Cannes Film Festival, where it won a special mention. It went on to play at several festivals, including the Toronto International Film Festival and was Japan's official entry for the Best International Feature Film Oscar. It should have made it to the shortlist.

I admire Plan 75 for how it is strikingly- poised on contradictions. A film about generational rifts gradually becomes all about a conversation between the young and the old. A film about loneliness eventually upholds sororities, associations, companionship, and community. Plan 75 may not offer closures but it isn't dismal or dispiriting. It is sensitive but never once sentimental or manipulative. A film on enforced death and dissolution could have rarely been more benign, tender, and sentient.

Shah Rukh Khan: Want to do a film like Leon: The Professional

CE FEATURES

SHAH Rukh Khan, in an interview at the Red Sea International Film Festival which concluded earlier this month, revealed that he wants to do a film like the 1994 Jean Reno-starrer Leon: The Professional.

Talking to Lebanese TV presenter and journalist Raya Abirached on the sidelines of the festival, SRK said, "After this (Pathaan, Jawan and Dunki) I want to do a film like Leon. Not Leon, a film like Leon. An older, quiet guy, very intense with a grey beard and grey hair. I don't know."

The actor added that he wants to do "everything". "I want to do everything. Good guys, bad guys, mean guys, happy guys, loving guys, fighting guys. This year is very interesting because I have done Pathaan which is the action film I came here to do 31 years ago, so hopefully at 57, I still look like I'll carry it off," he said. Shah Rukh also spoke about how, when he started out, he wanted to do an action film with Aditya Chopra but was instead offered Dilwale Dulhaniya Le Jayenge.

SRK further said that Aditya never made an action film after that, and so when he was offered Pathaan, he jumped on the opportunity. "I worked out, built a body and they didn't want any of it. They said you just come and do cool action, you are easy. I worked very hard for it. I think it's an over the top, outstanding action film," he said.

Shah Rukh's upcoming film Pathaan, directed by Siddharth Anand, will be released in theatres on January 25. The film also stars Deepika Padukone and John Abraham. Shah Rukh also has Rajkumar Hirani's Dunki and Atlee's Jawan in the pipeline.
